Joint Chiefs Want To Expand Air War

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Joint Chiefs of Staff are urging an expanded air war against Communist North Viet Nam, with oil storage depots and refineries in the Hanoi-Haiphong area a top priority target.

It is expected that President Johnson will, in time, approve the broader air campaign — heavier blows against a widening target list —if Hanoi makes no more toward the peace table.

Part of the campaign has, in fact, been in progress since the United States resumed bombing Jan. 31 after the 37-day Christmas pause. Raids over North Viet Nam are running at three times the pre-pause level. But targets still are the same: supply lines feeding men and equipment into South Viet Nam.

The Joint Chiefs, in contrast with their position on stepped-up bombing, attach low importance to mining the harbor at Haiphong or to blockade the North Vietnamese coast.

U. S. Air Force and Marine fighter-bombers roared over the ruins of the Ashau Special Forces camp today in the second day of air strikes against the North Vietnamese regiment that overran the isolated outpost on the Laotian border.

The jets ran into "the heaviest anti-aircraft fire" ever experienced in South Viet Nam, but they destroyed one building, knocked out five mortar positions and apparently neutralized the Red air defenses around the camp, a U.S. spokesman said.

BOMB MISSIONS

U.S. pilots flew 42 missions against North Viet Nam yesterday, despite an overcast, the spokesman said. They ranged from the 17th Parallel frontier to Vinh, 150 miles up the coast, and to the area around Dien Bien Phu, in the northwest, striking a familiar list of roads, bridges and other communications targets.

The spokesman also said they destroyed a radar site 31 miles northwest of Cape Ron, midway between Vinh and the southern border.

The ground war continued at relatively low ebb, but the U.S. Command disclosed that the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade, the 1st Infantry Division and Australian troops had launched a new sweep, Operation Silver City, in the thick jungle 30 miles northeast of Saigon last Tuesday. It was kept quiet until the first contact with the Reds.

FIND BUNKERS

Shortly after noon today American paratroopers came across two Viet Cong bunkers. The Communists opened up with small-arms fire and exploded four shrapnel-scattering mines. The Allies replied with artillery fire which set off seven explosions.

The 1st Infantry found six trucks, a Chinese-made machine gun, 51 tons of rice, and 800 gallons of fuel in Communist base camps and bunkers while sweeping a flank.

U.S. and Australian ground forces hacked their way through the thick jungle in the deepest penetration of the Viet Cong's War Zone D stronghold since the Indochina war ended in 1954.

The troops are believed to number at least 10,000.

War Zone D begins about 30 miles north-northwest of Saigon in jungle so thick paths must be hacked out with matchetes. It covers an area of 600 square miles of low trees and thick undergrowth. There are a few villages and the roads are little more than jungle paths.

SAUSALITO POLICE CHIEF HUCK QUITS

Will Start Work April 4 As Chief For Union City In Alameda County

He will commence work April 4 as the first police chief of Union City, Alameda County. Union City, incorporated in 1959, has since that time had a contract for police services with the Alameda County sheriff's department.

Huck, 36, took over as chief in Sausalito March 1, 1964, succeeding acting chief David Cooper, who held the job several months after former chief Howard Goerndt was demoted to sergeant.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown, who announced the resignation, said he is accepting applications for a successor at city hall.

"During Huck's two years he has developed an excellent department which has been a credit to all of Marin County and law enforcement itself," said Brown. "The chief leaves behind a staff which is well-trained."

Brown said he regrets losing Huck and that it may take some time in recruitment to select the best man possible for the position.

Controversy On War Backed By Fulbright

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright said today the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which he heads is "fostering controversy" in the hope of attaining a true national consensus on Viet Nam policy.

The Arkansas Democrat, who has criticized President Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said the country is divided about American objectives in Asia and only "the honest and responsible airing of differences" can clear the air.

With the committee resuming hearings on China Wednesday, Fulbright spoke in defense of its role in a speech prepared for the National Conference of Higher Education in Chicago and made public here.

Fulbright said, "I believe that the public hearings on Viet Nam, by bringing before the American people a variety of opinions and disagreements pertaining to the war, have done far more to strengthen our country's position than to weaken it.

"The hearings have been criticized on the ground that they conveyed an 'image' of the United States as divided over the war. Since the country obviously is divided, what was

A new column, "The People's Schools," makes its initial appearance on page 11 of today's Independent-Journal.

The column, written by Bryce W. Anderson, I-J city editor, will explore statewide school laws, practices and problems each Monday, and will focus on local school district situations in Marin county each Thursday.

Quentin To Split Population Of Prison Into Small Units

Tranquilizer Black Market Held Leading To Stabbings

Alleged mass prescription of tranquilizer drugs by psychiatrists at San Quentin Prison today brought charges, countercharges, and a demand for investigation.

Dr. David G. Schmidt of Larkspur, chief psychiatrist at the prison, said Miltown tranquilizer had been prescribed on a mass basis by two of his assistants in 1964. Far from tranquilizing the prisoners, this resulted in a prison black market in the drug which led to a series of knifings.

Dr. Arnold L. Knepfer of Kentfield, one of the two accused psychiatrists, hotly denied Schmidt's charge.

It was Schmidt himself who prescribed the most Miltowns, said Knepfer.

Dr. Knepfer said today, "Perhaps Dr. Schmidt has forgotten, but it was he who prescribed more of these drugs than anybody."

He added, "Dr. Lowry, for whom I have a great respect, also prescribed a number of the tranquilizers, Miltown, and I believe he reserved the right to do so. Dr. Schmidt has no right to criticize any doctor for doing his duty."

Dr. Lowry declared: "I am demanding a thorough investigation into any conduct both by the California Medical Assn. and the Northern California Psychiatric Society. I believe my conduct at San Quentin, as elsewhere, is beyond reproach."

Dr. Schmidt, who was unavailable for comment today, reportedly said the drugs were administered to ease tensions among the prisoners.

According to Warden Lawrence E. Wilson, narcotic addicts craved the tranquilizers and demanded them from convicts who had received them under prescription.

As a result, said Wilson, about 30 knife cuttings among inmates took place in one month late in 1964.

Revolutionary New System Is Planned

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Revolutionary plans to split the 3,700 convict population at San Quentin into small units, each with its own "head man" and counsellor, were announced today.

The new system—the most dramatic administration step made at the prison since the end of World War II—will get under way in July, providing funds are allotted in this year's budget.

Each unit will be assigned its own officers, who will be responsible for control of the inmates, Associate Warden James W. L. Park explained.

"In the past, all the inmates have been treated as one unit. The new system means the officer in charge will get to know the men better and the counsellors will be able to have a more beneficial function," he said.

Hoodlums who, in the past, have been able to hide in the crowd or "play act" during a one-hour interview with an overworked counsellor, will not like the new unit idea, predicted Park.

UNDER STUDY

"But the 85 per cent of the inmates, who only want to work out their time, will welcome the system as an advance in rehabilitation," he said.

The unit plan, initiated by Warden Lawrence E. Wilson, has been under investigation by department heads at the prison for several years, said Park.

"It is a long process," he said, "and if it get under way in July it might take months and months before problems begin to get solved.

"But it is a start and is the kind of basic concept which must be undertaken before work can start on more advanced plans of rehabilitation for the prisoners."

ANOTHER RATIO

Park said it was intended to assign one counsellor to 150 prisoners instead of one to 450, which is the ratio at present.

The officer in charge of the unit will be allotted about five different functions connected with that unit, including being a member of the disciplinary committee.

"This should lead to considerably better communications all around," said Park.

Candidacy Petition Filed By Bennett

William Morgan Bennett, 48, Kentfield candidate for the June 7 primary Democratic nomination for attorney general of California, today filed his petition for candidacy in Marin County clerk's office.

Bennett, state public utilities commissioner, said he believed he is the first such candidate to ever file in Marin County. He said this was the first of several planned filings, including the taking out of nomination papers in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

He is opposing incumbent Thomas C. Lynch for the nomination.

Bennett, of 35 Evergreen Drive, arrived at the county clerk's office at 11:15 a.m. with his entire family: his wife, Jane, and children, William Jr., 19; James, 15; Michael, 9, and Joan 7.

He declared: "The people of California, the most important client of all, need an attorney general who is independent and not a hand-picked, hand-maiden to the governor.

"This is the first time Marin County has had the distinction of having a resident of Marin County file for the office.

"California needs an attorney general to make investigations without fear of embarrassing other state officials. It needs an attorney general who has a broad field of experience, not only in the field of criminal law but in the field of economic law."

He added, "We need to address ourselves, and promptly, to such serious matters as racial injustice and consumer needs, and we need an attorney general who stands in respect of the constitution and not in fear of it.

"We need an attorney general who is not afraid to oppose Proposition 14 in the California Supreme Court."

Bennett has served 10 years as deputy attorney general,

NATO Allies Ready Protest To De Gaulle

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON—U.S. and British officials regard French President Charles de Gaulle's move to withdraw from NATO as the gravest internal threat to the Atlantic Alliance since its inception in 1949.

The United States and 13 other Allied governments are working on a draft of a joint declaration endorsing the NATO defense alliance as a reply to de Gaulle.

In essence, the declaration would pledge the 14 Allies to continue their support of NATO including integrated military operations. This was aimed directly at de Gaulle's threat to withdraw his tactical air force units from NATO bases in West Germany and to oust all foreign forces from French bases unless they are placed under French command.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart said today France's military withdrawal from the North Atlantic Alliance strikes at the entire allied defense system and threatens the security of the West.

Cigarette Prices Raised

The increase of 40 cents per 1,000 cigarettes was expected to be reflected in a 1-cent boost in the cost of a pace of 20 cigarettes.

The American Tobacco Co. initiated the increase. Philip Morse, Inc., followed.

American Tobacco's raise applied to Lucky Strike regulars and filters, Tareyton, Carlton, Waterford, Half and Half, Monclair and Pall Mall non-filters. An exception was Pall Mall filters on which the price was reduced $2.60 per 1,000.

Philip Morris raised prices on Marlboro, Philip Morriss filters, Philip Morris Commander, Parliament filter, Paxton, Alpine, Glaxy and Philip Morris regular. The price of Benson and Hedges Kool was cut $2.60 per 1,000.

The companies made no statement on the reasons for the price changes.

SAN JOSE (UPI)— San Jose Mayor Joseph L. Pace today announced he would seek the Republican nomination for controller in the June 7 primary election.

Pace, 51, is the only Republican in the race. Controller Alan Cranston, a Democrat, already has announced he is a candidate for a third term.

By THERON A. NEWELL

Novato police arrested eight marijuana suspects, five of them juveniles and two of these Novato High School students, in two separate arrests Saturday afternoon.

In each case, long hair of the youths was the factor that alerted police.

Arrested were Paul Edward Deal, 25, of 330 Hyacinth Way, Terra Linda; Milton Christopher Howard, 18, of Santa Margarita San Luis Obispo County, and Robert Gordon Brien, 18, of Chico. The last two are members of the Blue Boys, a rock and roll group.

The other five, all juveniles, were booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall.

Chief Robert Di Grazia of Novato police said he was told today by chief of police at Chico that the Blue Boys have been under investigation for several months on suspicion of supplying marijuana to students at Chico High School.

Deal was arrested by Novato police who were called to Hamilton Rir Force Base by Air Police when he tried to go through the main gate with a false identification card.

A/1c Charles A. Bratcher of the Air Police said he was alerted to examine Deal's identification because he wore long hair although he carried military identification from the first battalion at Fort Lewis, Wash.

When Fort Lewis could not identify him, Novato police officers Daniel Thomas and William Cann searched Deal's car. In it they found two brown paper sacks and a plastic vial that contained leaves, stems and seeds of what they identified as marijuana.

"I don't know how that got in here, man; that's not mine," Deal told officer Cann when he found the sacks in the glove department.

Deal was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possession of marijuana and later released on $3,300 bail. He is

Attack On U.S. Embassy Believed Foiled By Coup

SINGAPORE (AP) — The army takeover in Indonesia reportedly foiled a plot by Foreign Minister Subandrio to attack the U.S. Embassy in Jakarta, sources in Singapore said today.

The sources said Subandrio had urged pro-Communist forces to launch the attack in retaliation for student raids last week on Chinese Communist officies in Jakarta.

The U.S. Embassy burned all its secret documents when it learned of the plans for goons supporting Subandrio to seize documents and burn the embassy, the sources said.

Reports reaching Singapore said 20 of Subandrio's intelligence agents exchanged shots last Saturday with paratroopers and military police sent to arrest them. Two agents were shot, the reports said.

The agents were members of an internal spy network Subandrio used to keep watch on Indonesia's military and political organizations, the reports said. Arms and explosives were reportedly found in the office of the spy network.

The three-day-old government of army chief Lt. Gen. Suharto was believed holding Subandrio and President Sukarno under house arrest at Sukarno's Merdeka Palace in Jakarta, two Japanese newsmen in Jakarta reported.

Early reports said Subandrio and the ministers had been arrested. There also were reports that the deputy premier, who also is his country's

Congress To Get Money, Tax Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $13.1-billion appropriation bill and a $6-billion tax measure may keep Congress busier than usual this week and fan the fires of controversy over foreign policy.

Both are emergency measures and by-products of the Viet Nam war.

The appropriation bill comes before the House tomorrow and is expected to pass by Wednesday. It has not been considered by the Senate.

The bill carries the exact amount of money requested by President Johnson to finance the increasing cost of military and economic programs in Viet Nam and other areas of Southeast Asia. It would raise to about $60 billion total defense appropriations voted for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

The tax bill already has passed both the House and the Senate, but in different forms. A compromise scheduled for passage by both branches tomorrow would raise an estimated $6 billion through fiscal 1967 and add about 300,000 persons 72 years old or older to the Social Security benefits rolls. The pensioners would be paid by funds from the Social Security trust fund until July 1, 1967.

The new revenue would come from restoration of recent cuts in excise taxes on automobiles and telephone calls and a revision of the withholding system designed to keep taxpayers current with their income tax liability and also speed payment of corporate taxes.

The administration requested the tax bill as an anti-inflation weapon.

Two other bills on the House docket this week are expected to stir controversy.

One would provide an official residence in Washington for the vice president. The other would allow the Interstate Commerce Commission to order Daylight Saving Time during six summer months for all time zones in the nation.

'Drastic' Taxes Held Not Needed For War

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Treasury Secretary Henry F. Fowler said today the war in Viet Nam does not require either "drastic" taxes or direct wage-price controls to keep the U.S. economy on an even keel.

He said the nation's ability to meet the demands of the Viet Nam war without inflation is "vastly greater" than it was during the Korean conflict. He warned against inflationary "jitters" over such recent economic developments as the big drop in the U.S. unemployment rate to 3.7 per cent, or American industry's big capital investment plans.

"Both the present scale of activities in Viet Nam —and the prospective scale insofar as those closest to it can foresee — remain within our capacity to sustain without anything like the drastic measures required during the period of the Korean War," Fowler said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Economic Club of Detroit. The text of the secretary's remarks was made available in Washington.

President Johnson told the nation's governors at a White House meeting Saturday that the costs of the Viet Nam war could boost his record $112.6 billion for the coming fiscal year. He said that despite his efforts to trim government spending elsewhere, "we cannot know how many planes will be lost, how many shells will be fired, how many losses we may suffer.

Corps Won't Extend Duty In Far East

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marine Corps sees no need to extend duty tours in the Far East beyond the present 13-month limit, a corps spokesman said today.

The question was raised with the corps when it was noted that the first large Marine ground combat unit, a 4,000-man brigade, went into South Viet Nam about a year ago.

This anniversary suggested the possibility that there might be a wholesale turnover of them or an extension of their overseas duty tours.

However, the corps spokesman said this would not happen because the men who went into Viet Nam with the brigade have been replaced gradually on an individual basis.

He explained that the key was not the time spent by the men in Viet Nam, but the extent of their over-all service in the Far East theater.

The brigade had come from Okinawa, so its men already had varying amounts of Far East duty to their credit before they landed in Viet Nam.

As Marines reached the 13-month mark, they were rotated home and supplanted by new men. The Marines halted all rotations by full units last fall.

The spokesman said, "Each month we are getting about 5,000 men who are available for replacement in Viet Nam or for other purposes."

Crashed Pilot Saved From Cold

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—An Air Force pilot who was lost in the Alaska wilderness for 51 hours says he was confident of rescue while he waged a battle for survival in minus--45-degree weather.

MacDonald

Capt. Roy MacDonald, who bailed out of his F-106 fighter-interceptor jet after a collision over central Alaska last Thursday, said his only concern was to keep calm. The pilot of the other plane, a T-33 jet trainer, landed safely.

"I landed a little off a ridge," he said. "There were trees about 100 yards down and I went into that area to make a camp."

He spread out his orange and white parachute on the ridge so it could be seen from the air.

"I burrowed a place in the snow — to get out of the wind," he said.

MacDonald relied on the parachute survival pack for food, bedding, and his hope for rescue. When his radio signaling devices ceased to function a few hours after he was on the ground, he used flares in attempts to attract searching aircraft.

Saturday afternoon, one of MacDonald's flare signals and his parachute were spotted by a crewman aboard a C-123. The aircraft radioed a nearby helicopter, which reached him five minutes later, nine miles from the wreckage of his jet fighter.

Space Rendezvous Is Postponed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The rendezvous and space walk flight of the Gemini 8 astronauts was postponed today for 24 hours — until Wednesday — when leaks were discovered in an Atlas rocket and in a spacesuit circuit of the spacecraft.

Armstrong

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the trouble was discovered during checks that were to precede the final countdown.

The astronauts, Neil A. Armstrong and David R. Scott, will use the extra time to further review their flight plan, the space agency reported.

Scott

The Atlas is to launch an Agena satellite into space as a target for the astronauts to chase and hitch on to.

The Atlas leak was discovered when liquid oxygen was found to have leaked into a helium sphere used to pressurize the fuel tanks.

The launch times for the tricky space doubleheader will remain the same on Wednesday.

The Atlas-Agena is to blast off at 10 a.m. to propel the 26-foot-long Agena into a planned 185-mile-high orbit around the earth.

Castro Denounces Red China

MIAMI (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro bitterly denounced Red China's leaders today for using rice to "blackmail" Cuba and warned the United States he has "magnificent weapons to fight any kind of war, conventional or nonconventional."

Castro

"We can never be defeated," he shouted in a Havana University speech monitored here. But he gave no specific clues as to the type of arms his Soviet -supplied island now controls.

Castro threatened to curtail diplomatic relations with Red China and, at one point, referred to Chinese Communist boss Mao Tse-Tung as "feeble-minded."

The Chinese, Castro said in a four hours and 30 minutes speech, had "committed a grave historical error which will prove very costly to those responsible" for reneging on a sugar-for-rice deal with Cuba.

He said the trade backdown was "for purely political reasons" and gave Mao and other Chinese Communist leaders a tongue-lashing for these tactics.

Saigon War Profiteer Executed; Government Embezzler Convicted

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam's military government executed a war profiteer today and sentenced a former official to death for embezzling $104,000 in public funds.

Ta Vinh, 34, a wealthy businessman of Chinese descent, was tied at dawn to an execution stake in the Saigon marketplace while a battalion of Vietnamese paratroopers sealed the area to prevent any interference from the city's large Chinese population.

Later in the day, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's special anti-corruption tribunal pronounced the death sentence on Dang Cao Sach, 52, former treasury service chief in the mountain resort of Dalat, 150 miles northeast of Saigon, for embezzlement going back to 1956 to cover gambling debts and extravagant living. Sach, father of six, pleaded guilty and asked for leniency.

Ky, who attended the opening session of Vinh's trial, has promised to wage an unrelenting war against widespread graft and price manipulation that has contributed to the country's inflation.

Vinh, a father of eight, was convicted of "economic sabotage." The charges against the import-export firm manager included hoarding, speculation, illegal transfer of funds and bribery. The government rejected appeals for clemency.

Vinh's wife, wailing and shouting in English, Chinese and Vietnamese, appeared at the square with seven of her children to plead for her husband's life. National police kept her behind the barbed wire from sight of the execution as the bullets from the 10-man army firing squad tore into Vinh's chest.

While the political effect of the execution remained unclear, a different problem for the government appeared to be simmering down. Shops reopened in Da Nang this morning after two days of peaceful demonstrations there protesting the dismissal of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi as commander of the army's 1st Corps.

Thi, 43, a potential rival to Ky, was fired last Thursday by the rest of the ruling military directorate. He had been virtual overlord of the country's five northernmost provinces.

Downtown stores in Da Nang closed for five hours yesterday in a general strike organized by Thi's supporters in the coastal garrison town 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

Molester 'Cure' Plan Questioned

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Newton R. Russell, R-Tujunga, has expressed concern over the high repeater rate of the "cured" child molester.

Russell said last night in a letter to Gov. Edmund G. Brown that 18 per cent of the child molesters treated at Atascadero Mental Hospital were later re-convicted for the same crime.

Russell said he presented the governor with 14,043 signatures from Sunland-Tujunga residents demanding more effective state treatment of convicted child molesters. He said a series of such crimes have occurred in the Sunland-Tujunga area of Los Angeles County.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Insurance Advice Of Medicare Given

About 100 persons, most of them over 65, were told about Medicare Saturday in a special program at Ross General Hospital.

The oldsters were advised strongly to sign up immediately for the optional federal medical care insurance program, but not to cancel their private insurance policies yet.

They were also assured that no doctor in Marin is expected to refuse service to any patient because he is covered by Medicare, thanks to the fact that fees he may charge under the program are about the same as those he would charge a private patient.

Thomas J. Campanella, assistant director of the Marin County Social Services Department, said most insurance companies will have new policies to cover costs not borne by Medicare, but that final agrangements have not been worked out.

He advised persons with medical insurance policies to see their insurance agents about Medicare, and said these agents would undoubtedly advise their clients to sign up for the optional medical care program sponsored by the federal government and costing $3 a month.

The sign-up must be accomplished by March 31, reminded James Rankin of the San Rafael Social Security office, for anyone now 65 or older.

The Medicare program was presented to two groups of about 50 each. Each group was shown a filmstrip on the federal Medicare program and the state welfare medical aid program.

Dr. Marjorie E. Belknap said some doctors have refused to serve patients on welfare because the state payments to doctors were much lower than normal fees. The Medicare program has corrected this flaw, she said, and all doctors are expected to take any patient they can help.

She noted that the Medicare program requires that the patient be able to choose his own doctor and hospital.

Dr. John C. Siemens, Ross Hospital administrator, called the Medicare law the most revolutionary piece of social legislation in the United States since social security was enacted.

He said there still would probably be problems, since the program was new, but patients should be assured they will be served.

Campanella, discussing the state program, said any person who thinks he might be eligible should go to the county social services office to inquire.

Persons not on welfare who would be eligible, he said, are those over 65, disabled persons over 18, blind persons over 16, and persons in families where a parent is absent or where neither parent is employed.

Shelters Said Set For Millions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has found fallout-shelter space for 140 million persons.

In reporting this, Asst. Secy. Secretary of Defense William P. Durkee said the government program could save 30 million American lives in a nuclear attack.

The shelters provide protection only from radiation and not from nuclear blasts and fire, Durkee said on the ABC radio network program "As We See It."

No Job Open

An examination to establish an eligibility list for firemen, scheduled for Saturday, was cancelled by the Fairfax Fire Department because there was no job opening. One fireman changed his mind about leaving the force, Chief Charles M. Thornton explained today.

Redwood's Students Set Math Conference

Redwood High School's Math Club will sponsor a mathematics conference for Marin County high school students on April 16 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Two guest speakers, William Leonard, mathematics department head at Freemont High School, and Col. Robert Beard, mathematician, will headline the conference which will also include displays by various Bay Area companies, six student speakers, and a discussion on the formation of a Marin County "mathletes" program of interschool math competition.

California Favorite Bank Robbery State

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California, with its nearly 19 million people and thousands of banks to serve them, is a favorite place for bank robbers.

A study made by the FBI showed that during a three-month period in 1964, more than 27 per cent of all bank robberies committed in the Unied States were committed in California.

And one of the nations largest bank robberies this year took place at a branch bank in a San Francisco suburb.

A bandit made a telephone appointment to see the manager of a United California Bank in Mountain View. He identified himself as "Dr. Solomon, connected with the federal space administration."

When the man showed up he was dressed in a rumpled suit and carried a box. He told manager Robert Lewis the box contained dynamite and unless Lewis gave him $250,000 he would blow up the bank by remote control.

But like the rest of the country, not all California bank robbers are successful. A notable failure occurred on March 3 in San Francisco.

The bandit had robbed the Market Street branch of the United California Bank in January and got away with $600. Apparently in need of more "easy money," he decided to try again.

But, as many bank robbers, he got careless. The bandit wore the same clothes he wore in the first robbery, including the same raincoat, which a teller recognized.

The robber got $450 in the stickup but a Pinkerton guard shot him twice in the abdomen when he tried to commandeer a vehicle outside the bank to make his getaway.

No Russ Treaty Action Foreseen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee predicts no attempt will be made this session to obtain Senate ratification of a consular treaty with Russia.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said the Viet Nam war "has poisoned the whole atmosphere of doing anything rational in this area with the Russians..."

The treaty would allow the Soviet Union to open consular offices in major American cities in exchange for U.S. consular offices in major Russian cities. Fulbright's committee approved the treaty last year but the Senate did not act on it.

Fulbright's comments came on a special CBS program on China and the Viet Nam war.

Two Zoning Requests Due Planners

Corte Madera Planning Commission, meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the recreation room of the public safety building, will hold public hearings on requests for rezoning of two parcels to the newly-revised highway commercial district.

Chrysler Motors Corp. has asked that three acres on the southwest corner of Conow Street and Casa Bueno Drive be rezoned from professional-administrative. Belmar Investment Co. has requested that the property next to the McGraw-Hill Book Co. building in the Fifer Industrial Tract be rezoned from light industrial.

The highway commercial zone was expanded in recent amendments to the town zoning ordinance.

Planning commissioners will hear a request by Frank M. Hakagawa for a permit to hold a weekly Sunday school session for 20 youngsters in his home at 14 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

The Paradise Shopping Center Merchants Assn. will ask that the commission take some action on the master plan for parking in the shopping center.

Acting College Head Leaving For East

SAN FRACNISCO (UPI) — Acting President Stanley Paulson of San Francisco State College announced yesterday that he would accept a position as chairman of the Speech Department at Pennsylvania State University this fall.

Educator Tells Views Of Two Establishments

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There is a "new establishment" and an "old establishment" in education, a leading theorist said today, and the new one has painted the old one as "a huge body of second-rate minds working for fourth-rate salaries."

Dr. Harry S. Broudy, professor of philosophy of education at the University of Illinois, outlined this concept to 4,000 delegates in a speech prepared for a San Francisco meeting of the Assn. for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

There is much talk of these clashing "establishments" in education circles today.

Broudy said the new establishment in education "looks to the upper middle class patrons of the ivy colleges for its models of excellence and to the huge corporations utilizing sophisticated science-based technologies for its patterns of procedure.

"A large percentage of the public school (or old) establishment, on the other hand, came up from less lofty layers of the social order and looked to the American town meetings for its patterns of decision making."

The new establishment is the motive force behind recent revolutionary changes in school curricula, such as the new math, Broudy indicated.

At the same time, Broudy said, some innovations in education are of questionable value and there are valid reasons for old liners to go slow.

Broudy said, "The time has come for all of us in both establishments to realize that if we dream and talk about a sort of schooling that calls for educative engineers and scientists and statesmen, we should not staff our schools with teachers trained as educative mechanics and with a scattering of talented amateurs."

Bay Group Tours Creek

Representatives of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission Saturday toured Corte Madera Creek to look at proposed sites for dumping fill and possible public access.

County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said these seemed to be the two main concerns of two commission representatives and proxies for two others.

The commission is to decide Friday if it will approve the corps of engineer's flood control project on the creek.

But later information reaching here from Jakarta said Subandrio had been seen in the presidential palace on Saturday and yesterday and that apparently he was not under guard.

Subandrio was considered the architect of Indonesia's ties to Red China in the months prior to the Communist attempt to seize power in a coup last October.

The Indonesian army crushed the abortive coup unleashing a reaction which led to the purge of thousands of leftists in the island republic. Unconfirmed reports said thousands of Communists were killed.

One of Sucharto's first moves was to ban the Indonesian Communist party (PKI).

First hand reports said Sukarno himself was safe and officially acknowledged commander of the armed forces.

Subandrio, whose removal had been demanded by student demonstrations, may go on trial before a special military tribunal that has been probing the attempted coup last October.

The travelers said Suharto seems to be firmly in control. They reported groups were dancing and singing in the streets of Jakarta celebrating the army takeover. Province chiefs and political organizations sent promises of support, they reported.

Suharto was expected to announce a new Cabinet within the next few days, replacing Sukarno's 99-man body which had contained pro-Communist members and officials deemed corrupt.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution was considered likely to get a high spot. Sukarno fired him last month as defense minister and armed forces chief in a move that touched off waves of student protests.

Settlement Adds Land To Seashore

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An out of court settlement today abruptly ended a jury trial and gave the Point Reyes National Seashore ownership of Bolema Palisades, a 1,120-acre sportsmen's resort area 10 miles north of Bolinas.

U.S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter approved the settlement as a deficiency judgment against the federal government.

The national seashore has spent its $14 million appropriation in acquiring 17,420 of the 53,000 acres contemplated for the park, so the judgment becomes an obligation against the federal government's general fund.

Judge Carter will decide Friday how to allocate the money among the Bolema Palisades Co., the Tevis Livestock Co., holder of a deed of trust on the property, and the timber interests of the P.W.T. sawmills and A. W. Sweet, a lumberman of Sixes, Ore.

ARRESTS

scheduled to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been called into the false identification phase of the case, according to officials at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The second arrest resulted from a report by a Novato resident that his 16-year-old son, a student at Novato High School, had not returned some since Friday night. He said he thought his son was with another Novato High School student who had not been reported as missing.

He then noticed that it did not have a rear license plate and stopped it on Highway 101 for a check.

Among the youths in the truck were the two boys. Patrolmen Currier and Cann escorted the truck to the police station.

There, officers found what they thought to be marijuana in the front seat of the truck, and a bottle of assorted pills on one of the juveniles.

All the material believed to be marijuana and the pills were taken to the San Francisco Police Department laboratory today for analysis.

On interrogation, members of the group in the truck admitted making a sale of marijuana in Novato on Saturday, Chief Di Grazia said.

In the group was Howard, a student of University of Pacific at Stockton, who organized the rock and roll group last year when he attended Chico State College, according to Di Grazia.

He was booked into the Marin County Jail on the suspicion of the possession of marijuana and released on $1,100 bail. He is scheduled to appear at 1:30 p.m. Friday for arrignment in Marin Municipal Court.

Brien, a Chico High School student, had a seed of the suspected plant on him when searched by police. He was booked into the county jail with bail set at $2,200. He was later released on his own recognizance and is scheduled to appear for arraignment at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in Marin Municipal Court.

The two Novato juveniles told police they had gone to Santa Rosa Friday night to hear the rock and roll group and had spent the night with them in a motel.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Iva E. Stephens Dies At 72

Rebekkah Lodge memorial service for Mrs. Iva E. Stephens, 72, of 645 Plum Street, Novato, former caterer and school dietitian who died Saturday in San Jose of a heart attack, will be held at 8 p.m. today in the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato.

Mrs. Stephens was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ruth McCann, when stricken. She died a few hours later in a San Jose hospital.

A native of Pottawattamie County, Iowa, she had lived in Novato for 28 years. Her husband, Harrison Stephens, a carpenter, died in 1942.

Mrs. Stephens was known throughout the Novato area for her cooking. For many years, she catered at various club functions in Novato. She was a dietitian for the San Jose elementary school district from 1954 to 1959.

She was a member of the Novato Presbyterian Church and the Open Door Club of that church, a grand noble of Tamal Rebekkah Lodge 393 of San Rafael, and a member of the Senior Citizens of Novato and the Auxiliary to Donald V. Westlund Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in Novato.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Bob Jack and Mrs. Nettie Marie Droubay of Novato, and Mrs. McCann of San Jose; a son, James Stephens of San Jose; a brother, Ernest Carmen of Springfield, Mass.; eight grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. The body will be sent to Oakland, Iowa, for burial. Memorial contributions to the Heart Fund would be appreciated by the family.

MARION EWING

Graveside services for Mrs. Marion Rose Ewing of Gainesville, Fla., a former resident of San Rafael, will be at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Mrs. Ewing died in Gainesville Thursday. She was the widow of C. Q. Ewing, who died in 1947.

Surviving are a son, Richard Ewing, Sacramento; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth King of Gainesville, and nine grandchildren.

FRANK GAGNON

Private funeral for Frank X. Gagnon of San Rafael, former owner of Gagnon Brothers construction firm in San Rafael, was held March 8 at the Chapel of Marin, Novato. Burial was at Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Gagnon, who was 87, died March 5 in a convalescent hospital in Novato after a long illness. A native of Quebec, Canada, he lived in California 60 years and in Marin 48 years, making his home at 1614 B Street, San Rafael.

He is survived by two sisters, Marie-Ann Gagnon and Mrs. Mary Troussart, both of Grand-'mere, Canada.

JACK GARDNER

Funeral for Jack B. Gardner, 65, of 3 Hillside Drive, Kentfield, who died Friday in a local hospital after a long illness, was scheduled this afternoon at Chapel of Marin Funeral Home in Novato.

A native of South Boardman, Mich., Gardner had lived in Marin County for 30 years. For the past five years, he had worked for the Salvation Army.

Inurnment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

NATO

deeply critical of de Gaulle's policy.

"No member of NATO can afford to put national prestige ahead of that collective defense on which depends the safety and freedom of all the members of the alliance," he declared.

Stewart emphasized his belief that NATO will survive and warned that "no potential aggressor should imagine he can play on differences of opinion within NATO."

Meantime, there were reports that France would lose access to tactical nuclear weapons now earmarked for NATO if the two French air squadrons presently in West Germany were withdrawn from NATO command.

Under present arrangements, the squadrons could carry atomic weapons in war. The bombs are kept in U.S. custody in peace.

Elder statesman Paul Reynaud, who gave Charles de Gaulle his first cabinet post, today criticized the French President's isolationist ultimatum on North Atlantic alliance as "a dangerous miscarriage."

Reynaud, 88, emerged from semi-retirement to issue a statement on de Gaulle's announced "irreversible" decision to pull French forces out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization command.

"The NATO charter gave us the right to negotiate, not to chase from France the headquarters of the supreme commander all U.S. troops, except those who lie in frontline cemeteries because they wanted to free us," Reynaud declared.

Reynaud was prime minister when France fell to the invading Nazi armies in 1940. A few weeks earlier, he had summoned de Gaulle from the front and appointed him defense minister.

He said de Gaulle's NATO decision:

"If the parliamentary system of the constitution approved in 1958 by 80 per cent of the French people was applied there is no doubt that no government would have carried out such a dangerous miscarriage."

He added that "with one blow Germany is installed at the head of Europe by France remaining along, on one side, repudiated by all."

Condition Same

No change was reported today in the condition of William P. Simmons, 46-year-old San Rafael salesman, still semiconscious and listed as poor at Marin General Hospital today. He was admitted Feb. 23 after being found unconscious on a San Francisco street.

Publisher Seeking Ruling Over Pickets

Marin publisher Harry Johnson has filed in Marin Superior Court for a permanent injunction preventing three printing trades unions from future picketing or harassment.

Johnson, who publishes Marin Guide and affiliated publications are ceasing all printing and production, and therefore will not require employees in those fields.

His attorney, David B. Birenbaum of San Francisco, said printing and production will be done through yet-unnamed companies apart from Marin Guide and other Johnson publications.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court granted a temporary injuction to Johnson against San Francisco-Oakland Mailers Union Local 18, San Francisco Typographical Union Local 21, and Web Pressmen's Union Local 4, and ordered the defendants to show cause at 2 p.m. Wednesday, why a permanent injunction should not be granted.

Johnson and the unions have been involved in a lengthy dispute on hiring practices. It erupted in an Oct. 4 bombing of Marin Guide quarters at 200 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley.

Christopher Can Win If . . .

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco said today a poll indicates he can be elected governor of California if he gets the Republican nomination.

He told reporters a survey made a week ago shows him gaining on movie-TV actor by 2.4 per cent.

"I feel I am the only candidate who can beat Gov. Brown," he added.

Christopher criticized the governor's record. He said Brown always seems to have a hard time making up his mind.

Two Shops, Office Entered By Thieves

Thieves broke into two shops and one office in the Murray Park Center in the 1100 block of Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, during the weekend, but got away with only $50, which they found in the Dollars and Sense variety store.

Larkspur police discovered the burglaries at 1:45 a.m. today. The culprits broke into the office of Dr. Harold M. Lyons and the Charles Rex Coiffures shop by breaking windows, police said. They entered the variety store by prying the back door.

Windshield Broken

Hansel E. Smith Jr. of 8 Estrada Lane, Corte Madera, complained to police Saturday that someone broke the windshield and bent the gear shift handle of his car while it was parked in the Park Madera Center on Tamalpais Drive Friday night.

Newborn Suffer Drug Addiction

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Department of Health said yesterday hundreds of babies are born annually in New York City with the symptoms of drug addiction.

According to the department, the babies suffer from "neonatal drug addiction"—the result of being poisened during pregnancy by the narcotics taken by their mothers.

Marin City Group Backs Project

The Community Action Committee of Marin City yesterday unanimously approved the Marin County proposal for Economic Opportunities Act project to expand the county's work experience and training program.

The program, which the Marin Social Services Department is submitting to the state tomorrow, is to provide individual training to enable persons in Marin to obtain employment in occupations such as registered and licenses vocational nurses.

It will also permit completion of elementary and nursery school teacher training and clerical brushup for housewifes, reported committee chairman Arthur Brown.

Others filing or the primary today included J. Michael Anthony, 27, seeking a Democratic Central Committee post, District 2. He is a deputy district attorney, and resides at 428 Via Hidalgo, Greenbrae.

John A. Busterud, 45, filed for re-election to Republican Central Committee, District 1. He is an attorney residing at 102 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael.

Henry Joseph Broderick, 38, of 20 Rowley Circle, Tiburon, filed for Republican Central Committee, District 3. He is an attorney and an incumbent. Also filing for that district was Donald Loyal Blinco, 39, of 5 Sausalito Boulevard, Sausalito. He is a financial analyst.

S. Robert Politzer, 36, of 29 Glen Drive, Sausalito, is seeking re-election to the Democratic Central Committee, District 3. He is an architect.

Impacted Areas Money On Way

A check for $40,957 has been sent to the San Rafael High School District by the federal government as preliminary payment for 1966 under the impacted areas law. The money is paid depending on the number of students in the district who live on federal land or are children of federal employees.

The total amount due the district this year is $54,610, according to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Novato Swallows Arrive On Schedule

Novato Swallows, which for the past five years have arrived a week ahead of the much more famous Swallows of San Juan Capistrano, arrived on schedule Saturday at the old granery opposite the Lodge on Highway 101, according to Pete Lind.

"It is perfectly true that we are fostering controversy and, for my own part, I do so without apology, because there is nothing wrong with the honest and responsible airing of differences and, more important, because controversy is the condition of intelligent decision-making and the crucible in which a consensus as to objectives may be translated into a consensus of policy as well."

Fulbright said the committee is asking questions "because China and America may be heading toward war with each other and it is essential that we do all that can be done to prevent that calamity, starting with a concerted effort to understand the Chinese people and their leaders."

Fulbright's speech followed a declaration yesterday by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey that he believes the containment of Red China's "aggressive militancy" is a worthy objective but the Peking regime should not be isolated "from the family of mankind."

"I am afraid we are going to have to wait until the men of the... Mao generation are out of positions of leadership," he said. "But in the meantime we ought to maintain as best we can a spirit of friendship toward the Chinese people but recognizing what the regime is and making that regime understand they cannot achieve their purpose by military power."

In other weekend developments:

India's Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said that while Communist China should be contained, it also should be admitted to the United Nations.

Governors of 39 states unanimously adopted a resolution supporting the administration's Viet Nam policy. The action came after the governors had been briefed at the White House by Johnson and his top advisers.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told the governors he sees no need to call up military Reservists at this time but did not rule out the possibility in the future.

Pills Treatment

Mrs. Norma Jean De Curtoni, 53, of Stinson Beach, remained in critical condition at Marin General Hospital today where she has been under treatment since reportedly taking an overdose of pills.

Marinite Still On State Board

Patrick R. Byrne of Mill Valley has been reappointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to the board of administration of the State Employees Retirement System.

Byrne is a Republican and a vice president of the Bank of America in San Francisco. On the board, he will continue to represent the interests of bank officers.

He lives at 397 Rose Avenue and has been active in Marin County civic affairs.

New Delhi Sikhs Fighting Hindus

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Turbaned Sikh volunteers shouting religious war cries counter-attacked thousands of stone-throwing Hindus with spears and swords today after the Hindus marched on the holiest Sikh shrine in New Delhi.

Scores of persons were stabbed and many others were injured by club-swinging police trying to break up the rioting mob.

It was the fourth consecutive day of rioting in India by Hindus protesting the federal government decision to establish an official Punjabi-speaking state. Punjab is the language of the Sikhs.

Clergy Protests Cleric Removal

LOS ANGELES (AP)— A group of ministers has protested removal of a fellow cleric from the Easter sunrise service at the Hollywood Bowl as "interference with religious freedom."

The protest, made yesterday by the Los Angeles Assn. of te Southern California Conference of the United Church of Christ, was in behalf of the Rev. Hugh Anwyl of Hollywood, who recently advocated trading with Cuba.

Anwyl, 36, traveled to Cuba recently on a journey approved by the U.S. State Department, and on returning said trade should be resumed with the Communist nation for humanitarian reasons.

JACKSTRAW TRAIN

A Southern Pacific freight train careened off the tracks yesterday near Chatsworth, Los Angeles County, as a result of a minor traffic accident shortly before. A car had driven through a railroad track barrier, slightly bending one of the tracks. The engineer was not able to stop the train before it hit the bent section, piling up freight cars to cause an estimated $1 million damage. The car driver was injured; train workers escaped unhurt.

Governor Endorses Farm Labor Proposal

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today strongly endorsed sweeping federal legislation to establish minium wages and gain collective bargaining rights for farm workers.

The governor's proposals came in a prepared statement issued to the U.S. Senate Migratory Labor Subcommittee, which opened the first of three scheduled hearings on farm labor in the State Capitol.

Brown, in Washington to confer with federal officials, said in his statement that federal legislation is necessary "to relieve the abject poverty of farm workers."

Along with a minimum wage and the right to bargain collectively, field workers also should be protected by child labor laws and unemployment insurance the governor said.

He called for immediate action by Congress, saying "we cannot put off forever what must be done to correct the deplorable economic and social plight of many of our farm workers."

Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., chairman of the six-man subcommittee, planned hearings tomorrow in Visalia and on Wednesday in Delano, center of a lengthy and bitter dispute between striking farm workers and large-scale growers.

Much of the testimony was expected to revolve around the Delano strike. Among those scheduled to be heard were Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union, which has backed the striking workers; two of the strike's leaders, Cesar Chavez and Larry Itlong; Delano area growers and William Kircher, the AFL - CIO's organizing director.

Brown did not mention the Delano dispute specifically. But he endorsed the strikers' goal of collective bargaining, calling exclusion of farm workers from provisions of the National Labor Relations Act "illogical" and "discriminatory."

He also endorsed establishment of a minimum wage for farm laborers, but termed "too low" the $1.15 an hour minimum called for in legislation now before Congress.

"I believe the time is now ripe to bring into the mainstream of our American economy the hundreds of thousands of farm workers who now live, like outcasts, in the rural ghettos of America, isolated, alone and often spurned," said the governor.

In a statement prepared for delivery, the president of the 60,000-member California Farm Bureau Federation opposed bills pending in Congress dealing with farm labor.

Allan Grant, a Visalia dairy farmer, said wages for workers in California fields are so good that extension of the federal minimum wage of $1.25 an hour to farm workers isn't needed.

The New York Yankees hit five grand slam home runs in 1965 to lead the American League in that category.

Major Work On Tunnel Still To Come

San Rafael city officials today said they did not expect Morrison-Knudsen Co. to have heavy equipment or a large work force at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel for two or three days at least.

The company was hired by the railroad to rebuild the Puerto Suello tunnel, which collapsed during a fire July 20, 1961. The contract ended a four and one-half year court fight by the railroad which sought to abandon the tunnel and service to San Rafael from the north.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen and City Engineer Ely Caillouette Jr. said today they did not know when major work would start, but they had scheduled a meeting with officers of the construction company tomorrow to discuss possible traffic problems in the area during the rebuilding.

Junior High Pupils Give Talent Show

Pupils of San Jose Junior High School in Novato presented a combination barn dance and talent show Friday night in the school gymnasium.

Important Tax Vote On Tap

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Important votes on taxes and financial aid to local school districts awaited lawmakers today as the legislature began its sixth week.

Advocates of streamlining California's 80,000-word constitution, meanwhile, prepared to formally introduce their recommendations following Gov. Brown's decision to place the issue on the session's agenda.

And the governor pressed for action on a $45.3 million plan to improve education and boost employment in slum areas hit by social unrest.

The Assembly Education Committee scheduled the year's first big tax decision in a hearing on Speaker Jesse M. Unruh's bill to raise the sales tax from 4 to 5 cents — with the money going to local school districts.

Unruh, aiming to use the funds to reduce local property taxes, said his plan isn't a tax hike, just a shift.

The governor, trying to avoid a tax increase in an election year, dropped his own plan for a $143 million income tax hike and will seek, instead, to make up a budget deficit of almost a quarter of a billion dollars by using a new bookkeeping device.

At the same time, the Assembly Ways and Means Committee called a hearing on the administration's bill for a $260 million bond issue to finance loans and grants for local school construction.

If approved by two-thirds of both houses of the legislature, the bill by Speaker Pro tem Carlos Bee, D-Hayward, would place the bonds on this year's June ballot.

The Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee will meet Wednesday on reform legislation prompted by California's assessor scandal.

And the Assembly Natural Resources, Planning and Public Works Committee was ready to decide Tuesday on bills cracking down on junkyards near highways and tightening the state's highway beautification laws.

In presenting his plan Sunday to improve the slums, Brown called on Californians to "start to heal the split in our society" caused by last year's violence in Los Angeles' Negro districts.

Schools Budget Can Be Reduced

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown said today the state's school support budget for next year can be cut by $2.35 million.

The previously announced allocation for local school districts, he said, had been based on finance department estimates of average daily attendance, which turned out to be 10,000 higher than actual enrollment.

The finance department explained it made its own estimates because the Education department was unable to supply figures from individual schools.

Bar's Unique Burglar Alarm Gets Fast Talking Suspect

When Milatovich arrived home at 3 a.m. after walking a block from his tavern, his telephone was ringing, alerting him that something was amiss.

Milatovich, before leaving the bar each night, dials the first six digits of his home telephone number. Then he dials the seventh digit part of the way and puts a plug in the dial so the call is not completed.

A wire then is strung from the plug to the tavern cash register. When the cash register is disturbed, the wire loosens the plug and the call is completed.

When Milatovich heard the phone ring, he dashed back to the bar and saw a man fleeing on foot. Milatovich began shouting. Aroused neighbors telephoned police, who arrested Harry L. Kawaka, 40, a merchant seaman.

Police said Kawaka also was ingenious. When they stopped him, he said, "hurry, he went that way." However, officers said, they took Kawaka into custody.

A Report on 1965—And a Look Ahead:

El Paso Natural Gas Company offers a multi-million-dollar rate cut for all California

El Paso Natural Gas Company's Annual Report for 1965 outlines plans for future service to California and other western and southwestern states.

Most important for Californians is the company's proposal to bring large new amounts of natural gas to the Los Angeles area.

If approved by the FPC, the low prices California pays for gas will go even lower. That's because we will be able to make fuller use of our existing pipeline facilities, bringing gas even more economically from prolific nearby gas fields in the southwest.

In fact, economies under our proposed project are so great that we will be able to cut the rates for all of the gas we now furnish California, as well as for the new supplies. It will mean lower rates for natural gas distributors we serve in both northern and southern California, and even for our customers in Arizona, New Mexico, west Texas and southern Nevada.

And every foot of gas we supply will be fully regulated by State and Federal authorities to assure that now, and in the future, the service rendered will be in the public interest. If, for example, regulatory authorities say more gas should be supplied to southern California for smog-control, our project can furnish all the gas that is needed.

Backing up El Paso Natural's project (and, by the way, none of the other existing or proposed pipeline companies has ever been able to offer gas to California at prices as low as ours) are vast reserves of gas. These reserves are close to California—largely in New Mexico and west Texas. That's important to you, because transportation costs make up a large part of the price of gas to the state, and these supplies have to come only a short distance.

Details on this low-cost project, and on the millions of dollars it will save California, are contained in our Annual Report for 1965. It also reviews other aspects of El Paso's progress during the year. We'd like to send you a copy.

Two Students Win Leadership Contest

Two Marin high school students, Sandee Schultz of Fairfax and John Hart of Santa Venetia, are winners of the 18th annual youth leadership contest of San Rafael Lodge 1108, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks.

Miss Schultz of Sir Francis Drake High School, and Hart, a senior at Terra Linda High School, placed top out of 12 students who entered the county contest, judged on leadership in school, church and community activities.

JOHN HART
Top Ten Senior

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Schultz of 20 Laura Lane, Fairfax, Sandee is a straight 'A" student at Drake High and s a member of several outside organizations including secretary-secretary of the high school council of the American Red Cross.

She intends to major in mathematics at college and hopes to work with handicapped children.

Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hart of 13 Jefferson Avenue, Santa Venetia, is among the top 10 seniors at Terra Linda and is active in the school's literary publications.

He is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation and won the National Council of Teachers of English achievement award.

His ambition is to translate and teach the literature of other languages.

Both students will go forward to the Elks Lodge district contest with the prospect of qualifying for state and national contests.

Buddies Have Togetherness In Uniform

Three 18-year-old San Rafael High School graduates, buddies for many years, were wrong when they thought the Navy would separate them.

They enlisted the same day, arrived at the Naval Training Center at San Diego the same day, went through boot camp together, and are now on leave at their homes, within half a mile of each other.

In two weeks time, they will leave together for San Diego where they will receive technical training.

Michal A. Cicanese of 122 Picnic Avenue will attend sonar school; Dave J. Garbarino will be given dental technician training and Barrett W. Oare of 66 Hillview Avenue will train as a radioman.

Garbarino said today, "Cicanese and I have been friends for 13 years and we knew Oare before we enlisted. It was a surprise when all turned up in the same company."

It was a surprise to the Navy too. "Pure coincidence," said a spokesman at the recruiting station, San Rafael.

Citizen Gets Honor

China Quake Probably Serious

TOKYO (AP) — Official reports from Red China indicate that the powerful earthquake that rippled across north China March 8 may have flattened scores of villages and left high casualties.

The reports from the New China News Agency give no figures but tell of massive relief work, hospitals being set up in the field and teams working to rebuild collapsed houses.

The jolt, nearly as powerful as that which devastated Alaska in 1964, came about 5:30 a.m. when millions presumably were still sleeping. The center reportedly was around Kaifeng, a large city.

Labor Council Hits Freeway Proposals

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The AFL-CIO labor council of San Francisco Friday night rescinded its two-year-old endorsement of a San Francisco freeway through Golden Gate Park.

The council's 52-23 vote against the freeway proposal followed arguments by members that the route would destroy 400 trees and not really bring about new jobs.

Youths To Talk Frankly On Problems Of Today

A thousand youths are expected to descend on the College of Marin campus on Saturday, March 19, to speak out frankly on earthy topics like jobs, crime, and marital relations.

It will be the Marin Youth Conference, an ambitious undertaking to bring young people face to face with other youths and with adults for a frank discussion of mutual problems.

Marin Youth For Action is sponsoring the conference with the help of the Marin Youth Council.

Most of the preparation and legwork is being done by students of the county's public and private high schools and the College of Marin.

Talk with some of the students and you find they are not starry-eyed idealists looking for Utopia. They are concerned with the practical day-to-day problems right here in the county. They'll be discussing jobs, delinquency, drinking, smoking, divorce, and maybe even civil disobedience or narcotics.

Panel discussions will be broken down into five main topics—education, human relations, the family, jobs, and relationship with the law.. Each of these groups hopes to have adult specialists to lead the panels and answer questions.

The encouraging aspect of the coming conference is that our teen-agers recognize that problems do exist and are eager to discuss them and get adult views. They not only invite adults, they are asking for adult participation.

True, some of the youngsters may advocate certain types of civil disobedience or legalized marijuana under strict control.

Rather than being horrified by such ideas, it behooves the adult population to meet these young ideas, exchange differing points of view, and try to work for solutions.

Both sides often lament the lack of communication between youth and adult. "Today's kids are beyond control," say the adults. "The grownups never seem to understand us," reply the youngsters.

But on March 19, the youngsters are taking the initiative, inviting adults to give them the benefit of experience and in turn listen to youthful ideas.

Whether the Marin Youth Conference will be a one-shot deal, or whether it will continue to grow as an effective medium of communication between old and young will depend on the attendance and interest shown by grownups at the coming conference.

We urge community-wide support of the March 19 conference and of other youth groups such as the YMCA.

Fighting Flies With Gamma Rays

Gamma rays from radioactive isotopes may someday be used to eradicate flies and other insect pests. The technique completely eliminated the screw-worm from Florida, Georgia and Alabama in less than 18 months in 1958 and 1959. Now it is being tried on the Dacus fly in Greece. The Dacus fly is tremendously destructive to olives, and as long as it exists, it is potentially dangerous to olive groves all over the world, including California.

Low intensity gamma rays are used to sterilize millions of male flies bred and raised in captivity. This sterilization technique does not result in any critical loss of the flies' urge or ability to mate. Millions of sterilized male flies are released to mate with the fertile wild female flies that lay eggs which will not hatch. In a few fly generations, they are wiped out.

It promises to be the "insecticide" of the future—a very final one.

Legal Doubts Muddle Proposal To Stop Drunks From Driving

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Loopholes and legal questions surround the bill by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, which provides that a motorist suspected of drunken driving submit to a chemical sobriety test, or lose his driver's license for a period of six months.

The measure has cleared the Senate Judiciary Committee, and is before the finance committee for approval prior to the time it goes to the Senate for final action in that house. If passed by the Senate, it then must clear Assembly committees, the Assembly itself and be signed by the governor before it becomes law.

THE MEASURE is the culmination of a desire on the part of Senator Collier to apply a deterrent to the custom of driving while drunk, which imposes a danger not only to the drunken driver himself, but also to the motoring public. This happens to be a worthy desire, as well as a popular need for protection of sober drivers.

Legally, however, grave questions arise. It always has been a principle of law that no individual can be forced to testify against himself. Whether rousting a drunk out of his car, and advising him that unless he submits to a chemical test he will lose his driver's license for six months constitutes forced testimony without due process of law would be a question for the courts to settle.

The judiciary committee side-steps this question by holding that when a driver's license is issued, there is an implied consent on the part of the recipient to submit to a sobriety test, but this too, happens to be open to question on the grounds of whether or not the state can require any individual to promise to incriminate himself for the reward of a driver's license, or any other reward for that matter.

NEITHER DOES the bill define the alcoholic content in the body needed to say a man is drunk, as determined through the various tests for alcohol that can be given. Here is a loophole that eventually would lead to difficult determinations in court cases, and conflicting testimony by experts.

Another question as to the legality of the bill is: Does the state have the authority to deprive an individual of something he possesses without due process of law?

Suspension of the license would be required without a hearing before a magistrate, a process to which every individual accused of a crime is entitled. An amendment to the bill does require a hearing on request to the department of motor vehicles, but the department, although it exercises extraordinary powers in control of drivers licenses, still is rather far distant from the status of a court of law.

PROBLEMS such as drunken driving were not foreseen when the California constitution was adopted. A drunk driver in those days could go to sleep in the buggy, and the horse had sense enough to take him home. Today the drunk driver in effect has lost his horse sense, and has become a menace on the streets and highways of the state.

It is somewhat unfortunate that a bill which is open to question, and which provides loopholes for evasion of its intent is presented as a medium for helping to solve this serious problem. However, perhaps the measure, if passed will provide the beginning of legislation which eventually will deter the drunken driver, as well as protect him as far as his rights are concerned, if he has any, which he does legally if not morally.

Marin Hospital Replies To Critics

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to answer last week's letter by Mr. George C. Murphy to clear up some serious misconceptions about Marin General Hospital:

1. He comments on a recent I-J editorial which questions whether the Hospital really needs to hire a medical coordinator. The Board of Directors is investigating whether a medical coordinator should be hired to take over many of the duties now being performed on a volunteer basis by the private physicians on the medical staff. To determine whether a person is available to fit the requirements of such a position, the Board has appointed a three-man committee to make recommendations regarding the hiring of a medical coordinator. The Board has discussed the position of a medical coordinator at least six times at its public meetings during the past six months, but it has not as yet hired anyone, nor will it do so until it determines whether the proper man can be found, and how he fits in with our concept of this position.

2. I do not understand the comment that "Marin General has been a doctor's club since its inception, rife with politics at the taxpayers' expense." Marin General is a highly rated hospital with the highest accreditation from the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation and it provides the residents of Marin County with outstanding medical care and services. Our Board is a lay group which works closely with the private doctors in our county. It is constantly cognizant of its obligation to the Marin taxpayers and to the Hospital patients, and is continually striving to combine efficiency and quality. To call Marin General a "doctors club" maligns the effort and time expended by the many dedicated citizens and doctors who have served since the Hospital was opened in 1952.

3. Marin General was constructed with funds from an $800,000 bond issue passed in 1950. Since 1953, one year after the Hospital was opened, the only tax levied by the Marin Hospital District has been the amount required to pay off these bonds. For the fiscal year of 1965-66, this amount was $.01 per $100 assessed valuation. Since 1953, the Hospital has been operated in the black, offering its services at the same or lower rates than other Marin hospitals, and at rates substantially lower than San Francisco and Bay Area hospitals. For the fiscal year 1965-66 only, the Board has levied a tax of $150,000, or $.045 per $100 assessed valuation, to pay its share of the proposed Communtiy Mental Health Center, construction of which will begin this year. Thus, the total tax rate levied by the Hospital this year is $.055, a far cry from the $.86 or the $3.16 mentioned by Mr. Murphy. These figures are available at the Civic Center in detail if he, or anyone else, desires to inspect them, and I would like to emphasize that all tax monies have been for capital outlay and not expenses. While the taxpayers of Marin County are retiring the $800,000 bond issue, Marin General has become a $5 million institution; more than a million dollars of this was given by the Babcock Endowment Fund and Gruenhagen family. State and federal funds supplied the rest.

4. We who are responsible for the operation of Marin General pride ourselves on the nursing care offered at the Hospital, and on our high ratio of nursing care per patient. Marin General patients ask us for more nursing care, rather than less, and it is a constant struggle to maintain this standard while still keeping our room charges in line. Sequoia and Peninsula Hospitals levy a surcharge for patients who are not residents of their Districts. During the time Marin General was overcrowded we did the same thing. The District Act, under which Marin General operates, forbids us to charge less than the break-even rates, so District residents paid these charges and non-residents of Marin were charged $3 per day more. When the Babcock Wing was opened and sufficient beds were available this surcharge was dropped.

5. The X-ray and Laboratory Departments at Marin General are not run by private physicians alone. The Hospital has a contract with a radiologist and a pathologist which provides for the joint operation of these services by the Hospital and the professionals. This is the procedure in all fully accredited hospitals, including those in San Francisco.

When a recent letter to the editor criticized the Hospital directors for raising their "salaries" to $24,000 despite the fact that they serve without pay and have never been paid since the District was formed, or when Mr. Murphy and the I-J have misconceptions about the medical coordinator and they are misinformed about other aspects of the Hospital, it is apparent we at Marin General are not properly explaining our activities to the public whom we serve.

Therefore, we invite Mr. Murphy and all other Marin residents who want to know the facts about the medical coordinator, or who want to ask questions about the Hospital, to attend the next meeting of our Community Council on Tuesday, March 15, at 8 p.m. at the Hospital, when this new position will be explained fully. I would further remind the citizenry that our Board of Director meetings are open to the public.

Looking Forward To Pay Video

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Editorial on Prop. 15 (I-J March 5):

This proposition has been declared unconstitutional by a Sacramento superior court judge. He and other judges certainly must have been consulted before Prop. 15 was so cleverly offered to the voters.

Its proponents are known. Now I would like to know the name of the official responsible for allowing it to be placed on the ballot and why it was given approval. Repetitious, loud and preposterous TV advertising stunts are nauseating. Am looking forward to pay TV. Perhaps competition for viewers' attention will improve the quality of programming and advertising offered by "free" TV.

IN THE MIDDLE of winter, a veteran big-league baseball umpire was afflicted with a series of excruciating headaches, and finally consulted a doctor. The doctor examined him thoroughly, then suggested mildly, "I think you need glasses."

The umpire was on his feet in two seconds flat. "That'll cost you a hundred bucks," he roared, "and what's more, you're out of the game."

CLARENCE DOWD reports a strange happenstance when he took his 340-pound sister-in-law down to Asbury Park last summer. She waddled out past the breakers and started to float, with her feet sticking up out of the water. Two thousand beach lollers promptly jumped to their feet and started cheering and waving handkerchiefs. They thought it was a boat race!

PLAYWRIGHT Harry Kurnitz has discovered why a certain agent he knows is so chicken-hearted. "The solution was revealed to me by accident," insists Kurnitz. DeGaulle Precipitates Debate Over Future Of NATO Alliance

WASHINGTON—In giving a firm no to Gen. Charles de Gaulle's plan to dismantle NATO, President Johnson is speaking the views of all other NATO members, not just his own.

The issue is now joined concretely, and that's good. Divergent opinions as to the need and future of the Atlantic alliance will fill the air for a time, but in the end open discussion within the alliance will clear the air.

As the first step toward ending NATO, President de Gaulle proposes to begin negotiation on an apparently negotiable point. He says that any NATO troops on French soil must be put under sovereign French control, not kept under NATO control. Since the U.S., West Germany, and Canada have NATO bases in France through bilateral agreements, de Gaulle is simply proposing that these agreements be renegotiated.

But President Johnson decided to look around the bend in the road to see where de Gaulle is headed. The President is saying, in effect, that all NATO countries must be treated alike, that if NATO forces in France are to be under French control, NATO forces in Germany must be under German control — and the same in every other country.

This would mean the end of NATO—and that is what de Gaulle seeks.

It seems to me the following questions and answers have to be weighed in any fair attempt to judge the consequences of what de Gaulle is after:

QUESTION—Is NATO needed any longer? Are the Soviets so dedicated to "peaceful coexistence" that it can safely be dissolved?

ANSWER — Because NATO succeeded in keeping the peace in Europe for 17 years is no assurance that the peace will be secure again if NATO is dismantled. Its success is proof of its value. In its recent defense White Paper, the British government declared: "We regard the continuation of the North Atlantic Alliance as vital to our survival." So do the other 14 members.

QUESTION — Can the alliance keep the peace if NATO is destroyed?

ANSWER—The North Atlantic Treaty is the collective commitment of 15 nations to defend against an attack on any one country as though it were an attack on all. NATO is the collective force provided by the alliance to give that commitment its teeth. Does anyone think that just the words of the treaty have kept the peace? Or that ending the collective force and retaining the words would continue to keep the peace? De Gaulle does, the others don't.

ANSWER — NATO puts the whole 12-division German army and the German general staff under NATO control. Does de Gaulle think that French forces can be removed from NATO control and German forces kept under NATO control? The Bonn government and the German people don't want an independent German army, but there will be one if NATO is destroyed.

QUESTION—What should be done?

ANSWER — Fourteen NATO nations want to use their national sovereignty to maintain an integrated military force. De Gaulle wants to use French national sovereignty to end it. If he persists, the 14 are wisely determined to take NATO out of France and keep it in being.

President Johnson is right in saying no to de Gaulle.

Anti-Poverty Drive Heads For Capital

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Just about everyone holds conventions in the national capital, and now the organized poor are going to have a whirl at it.

The Citizen's Crusade Against Poverty, a civil-rights-oriented organization bankrolled (reportedly to the tune of $1 million) by the United Auto Workers and headed by the latter's president, Walter Reuther, is preparing to stage a convention in Washington April 13-14. Dr. Martin Luther King is chairman of the crusade's Commission on Public Information and Education.

PURPOSE of the affair is to exert pressure on Congress and administration officials for two demands: Greater participation of the poor on local anti-poverty boards, councils and other agencies and increased emphasis on projects designed to provide immediate jobs rather than "social experiments," such as legal aid, consumer education.

Also under consideration by crusade planners is taking a vigorous stand against President Johnson's Viet Nam policy. Reputed reason for such a critical declaration is the contention that the economic and social welfare of the poor "is being sacrificed to meet the soaring costs of the conflict."

A significant objective is indicated by Richard Boone, crusade executive director.

"THIS CONVENTION will enable representatives of the poor from all over the country to get to know each other so they can put their problems in a common voice," he pointed out. "They will be able to put some tough questions to people in Washington; questions like whether anti-poverty dollars will go to the poor or continue to wind up with the middle man."

Republican committeemen, spearheaded by representatives Albert Quie, Minn., and Charles Goodell, N.Y., strongly favor expanding job training programs. They also want to shift administrative control of these projects from the Office of Economic Opportunity, headed by Sargent Shriver, to the Labor Department.

In the Office of Economic Opportunity, Shriver's assistants are formulating proposals aimed at creating more jobs. Three particularly are favored:

A "job shops" program would set up shops in impoverished neighborhoods where men and women would be hired for training and work on jobs subcontracted from firms in the area. Minimum or slightly above minimum wages would be paid the trainee employee. Cost to the government is estimated at around $600 per participant.

"Employment enterprises" would be set up by local organizations to provide a wide variety of services, such as household and apartment cleaning, minor repairing, small remodeling and maintenance, lawn and garden upkeep. Unemployed would be trained for such work, and after they have established an employed status, would be encouraged to set up their own enterprises. Estimated federal cost is about $400 per participant.

"Small industrial developments" industries would be set up to take advantage of available skills in a particular area. Cited as an example is jewelry and ornament making by Indians in southwestern states. Weaving, pottery and wood carving in Kentucky, Georgia, West Virginia and other states are pointed out as other illustrations.

Pep Songs Could Drive Home Allegiance To Special District

State Controller Alan Cranston, speaking in Marin last week, had some strong words on the faults of special districts. But, like, everyone else, he had no easy cure.

He did suggest that directors of small districts might try to get their message across to schools by answering speaking invitations from civics teachers.

The special district story has not yet been told, Cranston said.

SO MAYBE we should get Theodore White to write "The Making of a Fire Protection District Director." It might not sell as well as "Making of a President," but think of the public service.

The trouble with special districts is you and I. We generally ignore them until there is trouble. We give them no allegiance.

How many of you have ever heard anyone announce with pride that he is a native of Sanitary District Nine?

TO CURE THIS, directors might spread a little spirit across the land and make special districts no more the unsung branch of government.

"I have traveled this world over;
"Many deeds have I done.
"But my heart belongs to
"Sanitary District One."

"Carry me back to
"The Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.
"There's where the 'squitos never fly.
"That's the old district—the place where I shall die."

IT SEEMS the county's two big water districts are missing a bet in the spirit department by not staging annual pipe laying competitions. We could have free lemonade, bands, balloons and everything. I can hear the cheering sections now.

"North Marin County Water District
"We know that you will win.
"We bet our britches
"On your ditches
"Don't let them cave in."

North Marin County Water District
"Fight for victory.
"All your connections
"Have our affections
"We put our faith in thee."

And from across the field we would hear:

"Hold high your banner
"Lift your head
"MMWD.
"Pass that spanner
"Cut that thread
"Drive to victory."

Of course, spirit is a two way thing. Citizens might do well to support the unsung directors. Here is a serenade to be sung (soft and slow) to directors of sanitary districts.

"Oh pipe it; oh pump it; oh treat it with care.
"Make us believe it's not even there.
"Oh, douse it with chlorine and dump it to sea,
"And we will be ever so grateful to thee."

Almost Anyone Might Qualify For Discount On Airline Ticket

WASHINGTON — The U. S. airlines have been promoting all sorts of special fares lately and it's very bewildering when you're planning to take a trip, particularly since there are so many restrictions involved.

I discovered this when I called an airline the other day and said I wanted two seats to California.

"Very well. We can give you a special rate if you fly between Monday and Friday and promise not to smoke over Salt Lake City."

"I PROMISE. What rate can I get?"

"You don't happen to be an American Indian, do you?

"No."

"That's too bad, because if you were an American Indian and left at four o'clock in the morning and returned at three o'clock the next morning, we could give you 33⅓ per cent off."

"Gee, that's too bad," I said. "Do you have any other special fares?"

"We can give you 20 per cent off if you've been married for 50 years to the same person, provided you fly to California on your anniversary and return on the same day."

"That doesn't fit me. What else have you got?"

"THERE IS our special weekend flight fare. If you're a practicing neuro-surgeon going to or from a brain operation, you're entitled to a 10 per cent discount."

"Neuro-surgeons get all the breaks," I complained. "Don't you have any other special fares I could take advantage of?"

"Here's one," she said. "It's good from Monday evening till Wednesday noon. If you're an American ambassador to any Scandinavian country and you are on home leave, you're entitled to first class meals in the tourist section of the plane."

"I'm afraid I wouldn't qualify for that. Incidentally, I'm traveling with my wife."

"WELL, WHY DIDN'T you say so?" she said excitedly. "Is she under 21 years of age?"

"I'm not sure," I replied.

"Well, if she was and you both left on a week day and neither of you had sinus conditions, you would be entitled to a discount."

"That sounds good."

"Of course, if she was pregnant and you both came from a state that didn't have an O in it, you could get an extra 5 per cent, unless this happened to be your first child."

"I guess that eliminates us."

"YOU GIVE UP too easily," she said. "Are either one of you students?"

"No."

"If you were and happened to be studying animal husbandry at a land grant college, I could give you each 45 per cent off, if you flew on Friday the 13th."

"I can't qualify for that one."

"We still have some other special discount flights," she said. "If you're a Rhodes scholar majoring in the humanities and you have a draft-deferred status and two children, you can take our coach service any time after midnight on the Fourth of July for one-third less."

"COULDN'T YOU just make out two tickets to California at the regular rate?"

"I'm sorry," she said. "I've never made out that kind of ticket. You'll have to talk to my supervisor."

INCOME TAX FACTS

Sick Pay Exclusion Rules Are Explained

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Sick pay received in 1965.

The amount you received because of accident or sickness, if received from an insurance company where you paid the premiums either directly or through payroll deductions is not taxed.

P. J. Wikel

The amount you received because of accident or sickness where your employer paid the premiums to the insurance company, or where your employer himself paid your wages while you were off sick is taxed as follows:

No sick pay exclusion is allowed for wages received for the first thirty days of absence if the wages are over 75 per cent of the regularly weekly rate. Sick pay received after the thirty day waiting period is over is excluded, but not more than $100 per week.

If your sick pay is 75 per cent, or less, of your regular weekly pay and if you are in the hospital at least one day while you are off, you can exclude the payments for the first 30 days up to $75 per week. But, if you are not in the hospital at least overnight, there is no exclusion for the first seven days and the $75 maximum will apply only to the balance of the first thirty days you are off.

The new sick pay exclusion applies to sickness beginning after 1963. It does not apply if you were off sick before Jan. 1, 1964, even if the absence continued after Jan. 1, 1964.

If you can use the sick pay exclusion, you should get a Form 2440 from your local Internal Revenue Service office and attach it to your tax return. This form will help you compute accurately the amount of sick pay you can exclude.

Sharp Drop Hits Stock Market; Pace Moderate

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed sharply lower today but trading was moderate.

Sharp losses spread throughout the list — motors, steels, rails, chemicals, airlines, color television and other electronics as well as aerospace issues.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.3 million shares compared with 7.01 million Friday.

Rails, aerospace issues, airline, electronics, chemicals, non ferrous metals, steels and office equipments were among the losers.

The list was irregularly lower in the morning, gradually widening its losses.

Cigarette shares were up from the start on news of price increases for cigarettes. Philip Morris held a 4-point gain. Lorillard, Reynolds, American Tobacco and Liggett & Myers held fractional gains.

Down 4 or 5 points were such stocks as Boeing, Zenith and Barber Oil. Du Pont lost nearly 4, Polaroid 6.

Douglas Aircraft's loss approached 4 as did New York Central's (ex dividend).

Down about 2 were Xerox, U.S. Smelting, Delta Airlines, Parke Davis, Motorola, Admiral, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Alcoa and Texas Instruments.

Postal Savings System Voted To Be Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Savings System went the way of the horse-and-buggy era today.

Without debate, the Senate passed and sent to President Johnson for his signature a bill to discontinue a system established in 1910 to provide the public with a convenient and safe place for savings

By law the system is limited to pay 2 per cent interest, compared to 4 per cent and more now available on deposits in banks and savings and loan associations.

The system reached its peak in 1947 when it had 4,196,517 depositors with a balance of $3,392,773 461 in savings.

By the end of the 1965 fiscal year depositors had dropped to 997,029 and deposits to $344 million.

Interest will cease to accrue on the anniversary date of each savings certificate in the next 12 months.

Blue Haven Pools Franchise Holders Are Moving To Marin

New franchise holders for Blue Haven Pools covering Marin, Sonoma and Napa Counties are Harry (Bud) Trowbridge and Phillip Starr, both of whom have moved with their families to Bel Marin Keys from Southern California. With them, too, is Norman Udkoff of Union City, who is also associated with Blue Haven franchising headquarters for Northern California.

The swimming pool contractors will have sales headquarters at 4206 Redwood Highway, San Rafael. Construction headquarters will be on a five-acre site at 230 Corona Road, Petaluma. Trowbridge said the company will use local crews in each area to build its pools.

He previously had his own business in Los Angeles, and is a former Marinite, having attended San Rafael Military Academy and received his engineer's degree in this area. Starr had his own pool business in San Diego.

COMPARATIVELY recent business opening is that of Page-Fritz, a new beauty salon at 187 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, owned by Richard Page and Fritz Hackney.

Page is a resident of Corte Madera; Hackney recently moved his home from Mill Valley to San Francisco. Both were formerly with the Fleur de Lys Salon de Coiffure in Mill Valley, which Hackney at one time owned. Their salon now has four operators and expects soon to add one more.

ACACIA BEAUTY SALON at 740 A Street, San Rafael, has been sold by Angelina Tringali (who is retiring) to Benedict Viering, former manager of Le Nora's Beauty Salon in Terra Linda.

Viering and his wife moved here two years ago from Connecticut where he had his own business for 10 years. The name Acacia Beauty Salon will be retained. Transcaction was handled by Ed Kingsland of Redmond Realty.

GEORGE T. RODMAN of San Rafael has resigned from his post of director of advertising, promotion and press information at Station KGO-TV to accept a like position at Station WBKB-TV, Chicago, owned by American Broadcasting Co. He will be replaced at Channel 7 by Jack Sampson, who has been associated with him for the past five years as assistant director in the promotion department.

JAMES F. LANGTON of Strawberry, director of public relations for Bank of America, has been appointed to the public relations committee of the Public Relations Society of America, a professional organization.

Another world fair will be held at Osaka, Japan, in 1970.

Stevens

Litz

PATRICK M. STEVENS, district manager for the Social Security Administration in San Rafael, will be guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Marin Assn. of Life Underwriters Wednesday noon at Lin Fa Gardens to brief members on Medicare.

The deadline for Medicare registration is March 31, and members of the association are offering their services in answering questions about the health service and providing help in the areas of Medicare and Social Security benefits.

THOMAS LITZ of San Rafael, a representative for VariTyper Corp. in the San Francisco area, has been made a member of the company's 1966 Hundred Club and attended the honor organization's meeting in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. VariTyper is a subsidiary of Addressograph-Multigraph Corp.

STRANGE VISITOR AT SAN RAFAEL PARK

Billiard Parlor Is Protested By Neighbors

Proposal for a billiard parlor near College of Marin brought strong protest from neighbors today at a hearing before Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill.

Cordill closed the hearing without making any decision on the use permit requested for the operation, saying he still wanted more information on traffic and parking and hours of heaviest use. He said he may announce his decision Friday.

A petition signed by 47 residents on Stetson Avenue, declared the billiard parlor would "attract an element not favorable to the area."

NOT POOL HALL

Alec Liu, who is asking for the permit to establish the business at 941-B Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, opposite Stetson, argued that a "billiard parlor" is something different from the old fashion "pool hall concept."

Liu, who represents the Country Club Billiard Center chain said "the concrete floor and spittoons have been replaced by wall-to-wall carpeting and background music."

Francis G. Burt of 11 Stetson Avenue said parking is "pretty bad" and residents are against a billiard parlor.

ATTRACT GANGS

Mrs. Burt arose to say that those who signed the petition felt the parlor would "attract all the gangs from Marin City." She also said residents are fed up with "these college students who dump their garbage and beer cans."

James Duke, director of planning and research for the college of Marin said the college could not oppose the type of operation Liu proposed, but would be against the old-fashioned pool hall concept.

Earlier Cordill continued the hearing on a 92-bed convalescent hospital proposed by Edwin J. Schruers of Berkeley at 1111 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. Not all residents of the area were notified of the use permit application to be heard today, he said.

Cordill granted a use permit to Arueguy and Mackenzie for a physical therapy center at 1129 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, next to the Redwood Medical Center.

Patrolmen Net Two Men In Store

San Rafael Police Sgt. Thomas Stephenson drove by Charlie's Market at 1701 Fourth Street at 3:12 a.m. today and saw two men inside drop to the floor.

Stephenson sat in his patrol car, radioed for help from other patrolmen, and saw one of the men crawl from behind the check-out counter toward the back of the store, out of sight behind a display case.

The other man ran in a half-crouch toward the side of the store, then changed his mind and joined his companion at the rear, Stephenson said.

The sergeant went to the rear of the store, while Patrolman Matthew Maynard guarded the front. He found Earl T. Guillory, 21, of 805 Fourth Street, Room 19, San Rafael, hiding in a utility area outside the building. The rear door had been forced open.

Inside, officers searched for the second man. Patrolman Raymond Maynard walked to a dark corner near stairs leading to the attic. He turned on a light. James Hardy, 20, of San Francisco, was standing against a wall.

The two men were booked at Marin County Jail for investigation of burglary and auto theft after keys to a car belonging to Avis Rent-A-Car, San Francisco, were found on one man. They were held in lieu of $3,300 bail each, scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Police said they found two rusty spikes, each two feet long, which they reported matched marks found on the door where it had been pried open.

Tires, Wheels Found With Youths' Arrest

Arrest of two Mill Valley boys, 15 and 17, yesterday led to recovery of 14 Volkswagen tires and wheels believed to have been stolen recently in the Mill Valley area.

The 17-year-old accompanied Mill Valley Patrolman Douglas J. Stone around Mill Valley, pointing out cars from which he and friends had allegedly removed wheels.

The 15-year-old boy told police he was with the other youth at about 1:15 a.m. Saturday when the older boy removed a wheel and tire from the Volkswagen of Mrs. Helen V. Byron of 38 Del Casa Drive.

Stone stopped the car of the 17-year-old at 12:45 a.m. yesterday on Miller Avenue near Willow Street since it had no license plate light.

Taken to the police station, the boys were questioned about the theft of the tire from Mrs. Byron's car. The tire and wheel were found in the trunk of the car.

The older youth said he was assisted in removing tires by two other boys. He said he had committed four thefts in Homestead Valley and on Castle Rock Drive, outside the city limits of Mill Valley. In all, the 17-year-old admitted 12 thefts of tires and wheels, police said.

Stone said persons whose cars have been looted will be asked to identify their property.

Riot Is Quelled In Muni Bus

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police said 40 persons, mostly teen-age boys, caused a riot Friday night on a San Francisco Municipal Railway bus parked across from the Potrero District police station.

Four policemen and a 17-year-old boy received minor injuries and were treated and released at Mission Emergency Hospital, police said. No weapons were used by the rioters.

Police approached the bus after they noticed it rocking and heard noise. The youthful passengers became abusive, then attacked them with fists, police said. Twenty officers quelled the disturbance.

Purse Stolen

Trudi M. Boyd of San Francisco told San Rafael police Saturday that her purse, containing $8.50 and a bus ticket to San Francisco, was stolen during the day while she was asleep on the Marin County Courthouse lawn.

Democrats Plan Talks Tonight

The public will have a chance to see and hear Democratic hopefuls for Congress tonight at the Civic Center.

The candidates night, sponsored by the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, will start at 8 o'clock in the planning commission room on the third floor.

Invited to speak are Phillip Drath of San Rafael, Frank Petersen of Ukiah, and Thomas T. Storer of Point Reyes Station. Fourth speaker is George E. McCabe of Santa Rosa, who was 1964 Democratic candidate.

Storer said he will disclose some "very surprising and crucial information" on Viet Nam that has to do with the primary election.

Rare Distinction

NEW YORK (UPI) —Rogers Hornsby and Ted Williams are the only two players ever to win baseball's triple crown of batting more than once.

San Rafael Woman Found Unconscious

Niella Saccone, 19, of 101 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael was found unconscious at her home at 6:30 p.m. yesterday and taken to San Rafael General Hospital.

She was later transferred to Marin General Hospital where she was listed today as poor and still unconscious. A hospital spokesman said today the cause of the condition was unknown.

Guatemalan Red Repored Killed

GUATEMALA (AP) — Informants say Guatemalan police have killed from 15 to 25 Red terrorists and guerrillas in the past 11 days including Victor Manuel Gutierrez, leader of the outlawed Guatemalan Communist party.

Gutierrez, who had been living in exile in Mexico City, apparently slipped back into Guatemala within the past two weeks.

He reportedly was captured before the presidential election last week along with Leonardo Castillo Flores, an official in the pro-Communist regime of Jacobo Arbenz.

Reports said Gutierrez and Castillo were taken to an isolated spot and executed.

Mine Kills Three

WARSAW (UPI)—A German World War II mine exploded in the town of Nowy Sacz yesterday, killing three boys and seriously wounding two other youths who had found it along a river bank. The Polish news agency PAP said the condition of the two hospitalized youths was critical.

Burglars Try To Open Safe

Burglars pried open the rear door of Egger and Son Nurseries, 232 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, early today, attempted to open the safe, and stole an undetermined amount of coins from a soft drink drink machine, police reported.

Police said the attempt to force open the safe resulted only in jamming the doors.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Overrides In Tax Certainly Confusing

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

John Citizen may be easily forgiven if he is confused about school tax rates.

He votes one month to permit the ceiling on his elementary school district's tax rate to be raised to $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation, reads two months later in the newspaper that the district's rate will be $1.99, and is informed when his tax bill comes out that more than half the total rate of $9.20 he pays is for schools. Small wonder he's confused.

The so-called "ceilings" on school district tax rates in California are ceilings only — certainly not roofs. There may be added stories above them, and in most districts, there are at least capacious attics.

A tabulation by the State Department of Public Instruction shows 27 "overrides" that may be imposed on top of the "ceiling" voted by the people—for 21 of which the law prescribes no limit. Besides these 27, there is the levy for retirement of bonded indebtedness, present in almost every district.

WHAT, THEN, is this "ceiling," and how did it come about?

Originally, it was imposed by the legislature to provide control on expenditures by local school boards—just as there is a statutory limit of $1 per $100 assessed valuation on the general purpose property tax rate that may be levied by non-chartered cities.

To provide an escape hatch where special need existed, the legislature provided that the limit could be increased, for fixed or indefinite periods, by majority vote of the district's citizens.

THESE statutory maximums began to lag behind the schools' need of money even before the end of the depression, but were left unchanged on the law books for decades. Until 1964, the law limited the general purpose tax rate, without voter authorization for an increase, to 80 cents in elementary school districts without kindergartens, 90 cents in those with kindergartens, 75 cents in high school districts, $1.55 in unified districts (combined elementary and high school) without kindergartens, and $1.65 for unified districts with kindergartens.

In 1964, the limits permitted without a vote of the people were raised to $1.25 for elementary districts without kindergartens, $1.35 for those with kindergartens, 85 cents for high school districts, $2.18 for unified districts without kindergartens, and $2.20 for unified districts with kindergartens.

Meanwhile, however, the "overrides" began to creep in, and the "general purpose" designation for the statutory rate became more and more of a special purpose.

SOME OF the overrides are self-limiting: for instance, those for contributions to state employees' retirement system and for old age and survivors' insurance. Some are limited by law: a 5-cent maximum for contributions to a retirement annuity fund, 5 cents for "community service," 10 cents for county education of mentally retarded, 10 cents for installation of fire sprinkler systems.

It is among the remaining unlimited overrides, however, that the big expansion is under way. These cover all sorts of things. They include education of mentally retarded by the district itself, education of physically handicapped, adult education, meals for needy pupils, health insurance, child care centers, local retirement systems, special schools operated by the county (agricultural, vocational, etc.), and so on. One that applies in most districts is that for repayment of state school building loans, which is worked out on a complicated system theoretically based on the district's ability to pay.

TWO THAT HAVE provided school boards and administrators with a lot of pay dirt since they were added by the legislature two years ago are for "excess cost of educating seventh and eighth grade pupils by elementary or unified districts" and "excess cost of educating seventh and eighth grade pupils by high school district."

The theory behind these is that departmentalized instruction in seventh and eighth grades is more expensive, so a "junior high school" setup adds to costs. Why these costs should not be figured in the rate ceilings voted by the electorate, the same as the admittedly higher costs of high schools, remains unanswered.

Voters have approved a "maximum" rate of $2.25 per $100, and the district is levying the maximum. Ten-to-one, if you ask the superintendent the tax rate, that is the figure he will quote. Pressed, he will admit it is the "operating" rate.

IT IS NO such thing. This typical district is levying seven kinds of overrides. They include two that are definitely operating costs: "community service" (for use of school facilities for other than regular classwork) and "excess cost of educating seventh and eighth grade pupils." The district's total rate is $2.73.

That, of course, is not the whole school tax John Citizen pays. He also pays a rate of $2.03 for his high school district, and 70 cents for his junior college district, plus seven cents levied county-wide for the county schools office and another three cents which the state imposes because of alleged underassessment by his county assessor, and which is divvied up among all school districts in the county. So he pays a total school tax rate of $5.56 per $100 assessed valuation—well over half of his property tax bill.

The State Department of Public Instruction found that the "special purpose" overrides, added by school districts without bothering to ask the voters, had doubled, tripled and quadrupled in the five years between fiscal 1960 and fiscal 1965. Some sample increases: Oakland Unified District, from 32.8 cents in 1960 to 90 cents in 1965; Whittier High School District, from 12.83 cents to 22.32 cents; Visalia Elementary School District, from 15 cents to 55 cents. (These figures, incidentally, do not include state loan payments.)

Commenting on the obvious, Ronald W. Cox and Archie L. McPherran of the state school office wrote in California Education, the state office's monthly organ:

"THE PRESENT tax system allows a school district to increase the tax rate actually paid, whether the taxpayer vote for or against a proposed increase . . . and even when they are not given an opportunity to vote at all."

Canadian Security Said Not Endangered

OTTAWA (AP) — Former Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker asserted last night that associations between a German woman and one or more members of his Conservative government were no threat to Canadian security.

Diefenbaker told newsmen that Justice Minister Lucien Cardin, who startled Canada with his charges of a sex and security scandal in the previous government, should name the former Cabinet ministers he claims were involved with Gerda Munsinger.

Mrs. Munsinger, who Cardin said was in espionage work before she came from Germany to Canada, said during the weekend she had been friendly with Pierre Sevigny, Diefenbaker's assistant defense secretary.

Diefenbaker hastened back from a fishing trip in British Columbia to defend himself in the House of Commons against Cardin's charge that he had failed to hand over the file on the Munsinger case to government legal advisers.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson is expected to announce in Commons today a judicial inquiry into the case. If the inquiry fails to make Cardin's charges stick, this could bring down Pearson's government since his Liberal party does not have a majority in Commons.

Mrs. Munsinger, a 36-year-old blonde now living in Munich, Germany, has said she is willing to come to Canada to prove that she was never a spy. The prospect of her return prompted an alert order to police and immigration officers at airports across Canada. Immigration authorities said there was a question of whether she should be admitted but did not specify why.

Mrs. Munsinger was denied entry to the United States as a security risk a number of years ago. Now employed in a Munich discotheque, she claimed she had been a constant companion of Sevigny, a World War II hero, during her stay in Canada.

Sevigny, 49, declared in a television broadcast Saturday that his acquaintance with Mrs. Munsinger, which began in 1959, was purely social and that he never talked politics with her.

CANADIAN FACES — Opposition leader John Diefenbaker (right) and former Justice Minister Davie Fulton, who was in the Diefenbaker cabinet at the time of the alleged Munsinger scandal, had brief words for newsmen yesterday after they flew back together from Vancouver to Ottawa. A Liberal Party Justice Minister Lucien Cardin charged last week that ministers in the cabinet of the former prime minister had been romantically involved with Olga Gerda Munsinger, an East German who emigrated to Canada in 1955. Kentfield Faculty To Seek Raises Kentfield School District trustees, meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Wolfe Grade School multi-use room, will hear requests for pay increases from the salary committees representing district teachers and classified employees.

Supt. Howard C. Harmon will brief trustees on the district's projected income and expenditures over the next two years.

Trustees will also be asked to approve preliminary plans for additions to Adaline E. Kent School, and to approve a summer school program to run from June 23 to July 22.

Firearms Band On Council List

The Tiburon City Council tonight will consider an ordinance restricting the possession and outlawing the firing of firearms. The meeting is at 8 p.m. in the multipurpose room of Del Mar School.

Councilman Fred C. Hannahs, at the council's Jan. 24 meeting, objected to the ordinance, saying it should be amended to allow minors to use air rifles and B-B guns under adult supervision. Sgt. George Barnes of the Tiburon sheriff's substation has recommended a separate ordinance be adopted, making the "non-malicious" use of such guns legitimate.

The council will consider endorsement of the county parks and recreation bond issue. It will also consider an ordinance restricting the distribution of handbills.

Meeting Cancelled

A meeting of the Stinson Beach County Water District, scheduled for Friday, was canceled for lack of a quorum. The next meeting will be held April 8 at 8 p.m. in the community center.

St. John's University defeated St. Steven's 96-5 in a basketball game during the 1909 season.

Social Status Said Motive For Schooling

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Money-making and the attainment of social standing and influence are the strongest motives for sending children to school nowadays, according to a UCLA professor.

"To these aims we sacrifice our sons' and daughters' childhood and youth," John I. Woodland said yesterday.

The director of UCLA's University Elementary School and a professor of education, Woodland predicted that Americans eventually will put a "humanistic" emphasis on education — but not until about 1990 or later.

The "humanistic" concept, according to Woodland, is one that "sets as its goal the development of each individual's potential . . . takes teachers seriously and values each student simply because he is a human being."

Woodland was the opening speaker at the annual convention of the Assn. for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Violinist Fighting State On License Withdrawal

Concert violinist Vlado Kolitsch of San Rafael, who has had other clashes with officialdom, has now locked horns with State Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch.

In a strongly-worded letter to Lynch, the Yugoslav-born violinist accuses him of "flagrantly violating" the rights of motorists in allowing driving licenses to be taken away "without due process of law."

He told Lynch that he will form a California Car Drivers League and invite drivers "to take drastic action against officials like yourself and their representatives in the state Assembly."

The outburst was sparked 10 days ago when Kolitsch was told by the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento that his license had been suspended.

He said a man, involved in a minor accident, named Kolitsch as the driver of the other car when, in fact, the driver was a woman. Although a policeman was on the scene and verified the names of both drivers, Kolitsch said, the Department of Motor Vehicles ignored his pleas and ordered him to hand in his license.

At his home and studio at 1732 Lincoln Avenue, Saturday, he said: "I had to hire an attorney to fight my case and got my license returned to me Thursday.

"I think it completely unconstitutional that a department can suspend a license without any investigation and without a trial of any sort. In New York, people wouldn't stand for it, but in California, motorists are letting things slide."

Human Rights Group To Hear Official

Dr. Eddie Ponder, director of the National Defense Education Act preschool training institute at New York Medical College, will speak on "Those Other People" at 8 p.m. tomorrow at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church, Marin City.

The meeting is sponsored by the Marin County Human Rights Commission and the Marin County superintendent of schools.

Hamilton Debs To Bow In June

The third Debutante Ball will be held at Hamilton Air Force Base on June 17 when 23 debutantes, all daughters of military officers, will make their debut.

The debs will be presented by Maj. Gen. Carroll W. McColpin, commander of the 28th Air Division, in a formal military ceremony at the Officers' Club at Hamilton.

CADETS from the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., will serve as escorts for the debutantes.

Mrs. Horace McWhirter is adviser to the debutantes and is being assisted by Mesdames William T. Kelley, social chairman; Thomas McClung, treasurer; Rudolph Picarelli, decorations; Robert Fishel, menu and Robert Benton, telephone.

THE BALL is being sponsored by the Hamilton Officers' Wives Club with all proceeds to benefit the Air Force Village Foundation.

DIANE Elaine Abraham, daughter of Lt. Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. Michael Abraham, a senior at Terra Linda High School.

JANET Roberta Beebe, daughter of Lt. Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. Robert Charles Beebe, a senior at Novato High School.

Former Marinite Becomes Bride In Washington Rite

Miss Sharilee Gayle Ross, former longtime Marin County resident was married to Joseph D. Cardosi in Washington, D.C. on Feb. 19.

Miss Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Ross now of Thornwood, N.Y., grew up in Mill Valley and Corte Madera. She was graduated from Tamalpais High School in 1959 and attended both the College of Marin and Shasta College in Redding.

The couple met in Honolulu, where Miss Ross had been residing for two years prior to moving to New York.

Mr. Cardosi is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Joseph Cardosi of Pawtucket, R.I. He was graduated from St. Raphael Academy and attended Bryant College in Providence, R. I. After four years in the U.S. Marine Corps in Viet Nam, Hawaii and Alaska he received his discharge and is now with the state department in Washington, D.C.

Student Book Fair Will Open Thursday

Brookside School Parent-Teacher Assn. will sponsor a student book fair from Thursday through Saturday, in the school's multipurpose room, San Anselmo.

Students, parents and guests will have the opportunity to browse and purchase books during the hours of 1 to 4:30 p.m., Thursday; 11 to 4:30 p.m. on Friday; and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday.

The fair, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ernest Landreville, will benefit the purchase of new books and library equipment for the school.

Family Life Training Need Greatest Now—

By BARBARA HOSMER

There has been loud talk about a "new morality," there has been confusion of parents in guiding their children; unpreparedness and buck-passing among the home, church, school and professional agencies in the face of climbing rates of teen marriages, divorce, illigitimacy and family breakdown.

Yet marriage courses show that they are effective in creating interest and awareness of the need for a strong family life in this age of chaotic mobility and in helping to achieve it.

Dr. Evelyn Millis Duvall cited these factors as underlying the current critical need for family life education, but, she cautioned, it must be competently given by trained adults—whether parents, teachers, physicians, clergymen or counselors.

"THERE'S BEEN LOTS of talking about wholesome sources of sex education and roles of the mature man and woman in today's world, but it's almost as if we've abdicated or sold out to the Playboy philosophy and the James Bond style education," commented the author and national authority on American family life. "When, after several years of discussion the churches have been unable to agree on what should be said I finally wrote a book ('Why Wait Until Marriage?') just because I thought that somebody ought to be saying something about it!"

Start right where you are and do one job well on one level of competence in making family life education more effective, she advised in opening the day-long Family Life Conference Saturday given at San Rafael High School for community leaders and parents, and sponsored by the 14th District Parent-Teacher Assn.

Dr. Duvall said there is greater recognition now of the family's importance as the socializing influence in a child's formative years and hence as the core of society. "This is where family life education naturally starts." The family is also a training ground in forming human contacts and learning adult roles through those of the father and the mother in a well-functioning family. She pointed out that in such situations as the Watts riots where rebellion is acted out, it stems from weak families which lack strong fathers, and that there may be confusion about man and woman's roles when the mother works and the father in unemployed, as shown in recent studies.

"THERE IS ALSO mounting evidence that we are poorly prepared for our roles as family members," Dr. Duvall said. Studies show teen-agers to be badly informed on child rearing methods, facts about mental health, human development; there is widespread ignorance about maleness and femaleness and the relationship of the sexes among parents and teen-agers alike, she said.

She recommended adult courses for parents to help their children with basic family and sex education and better training for teachers and other professional counselors.

"THE OVERALL FINDING is that there has been a favorable experience when family life education has been used as a constructive approach." She indicated that there is a lag in use of current knowledge but "the move is on for family programs" by youth agencies, churches, schools, voluntary groups and the professional agencies in the community.

"Each has it own role, with family the most important," she said, "but the school has a socializing responsibility for those who are learning poorly at home and for teaching group identity and to learn to live with people of different values.

SEX EDUCATION should be given "at the point of readiness," Dr. Duvall said, suggesting that, of course basic early education should come in the family, and that beginning at about the fifth grade, a systematic review of "what it means to grow up" should be given through junior and senior high school.

"Fears and resistance to family life education will always exist," she said, suggesting a broad involvement of interested community groups and to "bring in the parents and ask them how they would like a particular program or point presented." It is essential to encourage parent-youth communication whenever possible, she said.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Problem' In-Laws May Be Trying To Say Something Like—Grow Up!

DEAR HELEN:

I have been married a year and am having "in-law" problems. Not that they aren't sweet and generous, but they are inconsiderate at the dinner table! They raised my husband to eat "something of everything" that was on the table, and are trying to make me do the same.

I don't like eggs unless they are scrambled. I don't like cheese or anything with cheese in it. I detest salads. I can't stand pumpkin or mince pie. Yet we just spent a week with Bill's folks, and they only served scrambled eggs twice. Rest of the time they were fried, poached, or even boiled. When they didn't serve the eggs scrambled I would just get up from the table, go out in the kitchen and scramble them myself, dirtying plenty of dishes and pans so they would take the hint.

Every meal there would be a big salad by my plate, and it just got thrown away. They had cheese in some form constantly. One night they served macaroni and diced ham and ruined it by adding cheese. When I saw that was all they had to eat, I got up from the table and got a can of sardines out of the cupboard. When they had pumpkin or mince pie I just got up and got a dish of ice cream from the refrigerator.

I don't like mustard, dill pickles, mayonnaise, etc. Yet when they had hamburgers, both times they put all that junk on mine, and then would laugh as I took my bun apart and scraped off the stuff.

Can you tell me how anyone can be so inconsiderate?—DISILLUSIONED

DEAR DIS:

. . . It's easy: Just take a lesson from one super-spoiled childish bride whose eating habits must have jelled at age four.

Your in-laws are trying to tell you something, honey — like "Grow up!" If your husband doesn't continue the education, he'd better send for a "hungry i" button—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Some nut in my family threw out the paper. Could you reprint the address of the monthly shoppers' newsletter which gives the addresses of food and household goods companies that offer cash refunds, free gifts or money-saving coupons if you send in a box top or label of the product? I believe you said it cost $3 a year to subscribe, and you could save the cost back in a month.—PENNY PINCHER

DEAR P.P.:

Once more—with feeling! Not since the scrap fiasco have I been so deluged with requests for an address: The shoppers' newsletter is called Quick Silver, and you can get further information on it by writing to Eggleston Enterprise, Milford, N.Y. Good luck!—H.

DEAR READERS:

While we're on the address circuit, here are a few others about which I have had numerous queries:

Pen Pals: World Pen Pals, World Affairs Center, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn. 55455. Send your name, age, sex, address, and 35 cents, and you will get the name of a pen friend abroad, plus the "Silver Lining" newspaper and "Suggestions for Letter Writing."

Used cards of all kinds: Send to Mary Waters, The Christmas Card Lady, Monument Drive, Grants Pass, Ore. She renews them for use in Veterans Hospitals, and she performs this labor of love from her wheelchair. Mrs. Waters is in her 80s, looks 20 years younger, and has the voice and sparkle of youth. She's one of my favorite people, and I share her with many other friends, including thousands of veterans who mail out her cards each year. (Mark your package "Used Cards, No Value" for cheapest postal rate.)

Cancelled stamps—all kinds: Send to Sister Mary Augustine, 62 Newton St., Waltham, Mass. Leave one-fourth inch margin all around, preserving the perforated edge of the stamp.

You may donate your old eye glasses to Telephone Pioneers of America (address in your phone book, or if no chapter in your area, send to John Sabin Chapter, 1411 J Street, Sacramento, Calif.) They are distributed to the needy.—H.

Discussion On Report Cards To Be Held At Installation

Mrs. Ken Wiltz will be installed as president of Wolfe Grade Parent-Teacher Assn. at 10 a.m. tomorrow when a meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Morse in Kentfield.

Also to be installed are Mesdames Avanell Munch, second vice president; John Wagner, first vice president; Wiltz, treasurer; Marlene Farber, recording secretary; Douglas Connor, corresponding secretary; Carol Hardison, historian, and George Stratton, auditor.

Supt. Dr. Howard C. Harmon and Prin. George Stratton will discuss "The New Report Cards" and answer questions from parents.

Mrs. Peter Riber Receives Delta Gamma Cable Award

Mrs. Peter A. Riber of Kentfield was presented with the Delta Gamma Cable Award at the Bay Area Delta Gamma founders day luncheon at Goodman's in Oakland on Saturday. The luncheon was attended by members from 14 alumnae groups and 3 active chapters.

The Cable award is a national honor given in recognition for years of dedicated and inspirational work with the sorority. Mrs. Riber, one of three recipients at the luncheon, has been active in the Marin County Delta Gamma Alumnae Assn. since it was started, is a past president and has served in other offices. She was co-chairman of the amblyopia eye testing program for pre-schoolers in the county, part of the sorority's national project of sight conservation and aid to the blind.

College Degree—Pros, Cons

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—You don't have to go to college to succeed, but it often helps.

Gene R. Hawes, an authority of colleges and how to get into them, can tick off a long list of prominent persons who never got a sheepskin.

But in most cases, any way you look at it, a degree has "cash value," said Hawes. The degree, especially a graduate one, has come to be a "strong qualification" for landing the job initially and for deciding promotions.

HAWES, in an interview, observed that the woman qualified as a secretary has almost unlimited entrez to the business world right from high school and for many a female this has been the first step onto the ladder of success. And, he added, any girl should get some secretarial training even if her eyes at the moment are set on goals other than Girl Friday.

But in defense of her going on to college, he added, "the college graduate's chances for advancement later are greater." He feels the college education is an asset both to the woman and the community even if she ends it by marrying and having babies.

"MEN DON'T have the time to shape the cultural and civic life of a community," said Hawes. "It's largely woman's role. She may not get a check for it, but the community would be barren without her."

The problem is room, and the room is shrinking as those seeking entry turn into a "tidal wave," said Hawes. Hawes, in his "The New American Guide to Colleges" New American Library, New York, quotes the president of the American Association of College Registrars and Admissions Officers.

HE SAID the race between demand and capacity ended in a "dangerously close" finish in 1965 and will "get worse" before better. Hawes forecast an enrollment of 8.5 million by 1975.

The Hawes guide is to 2960 undergraduate schools, 617 graduate schools, plus undergraduate and graduate religious schools. He said that by region, the most difficult admissions is that of the Middle Atlantic States, closely followed by New England, then the South Atlantic States and the East North Central States surrounding the Great Lakes.

AUTHOR HAWES finds the prejudices against admission of women to graduate schools diminishing, with technical schools now freely opening their doors —"They're most welcome in engineering schools. There's a wide open field for them in electronics."

World Service Talk Set By Church Club

Aspects of Church World Service in many countries throughout the world will be discussed by Mrs. Caleb Cope of Mill Valley when she speaks at the Novato United Presbyterian Women's Assn. noon luncheon meeting on Wednesday.

Mrs. Cope will show slides illustrating the activities and display articles handmade by refugees in self help projects.

Mrs. Edward Simons, also of Mill Valley, will assist in the presentation.

Mrs. Cope, a member of the vestry of the church of Our Saviour, is chairman of the church world service clothing appeal for northern California-Nevada Council of Churches. She is also secretary for world relief and refugee resettlement for the Episcopal diocese of California and church world service representative on the diocesan board of the Episcopal churchwomen.

Mrs. Howard Chamberlain is program chairman.

Hostesses for the luncheon will be members of Miriam Circle and reservations chairmen are Mesdames E. C. Leigon and Walter Sundberg.

Novato Officials To Present Talk On Area's Growth

James G. Bunker, superintendent of the Novato Unified School District and Robert B. Lagle, head of the Novato planning department will present a talk on the future of Novato at the Pleasant Valley Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the school library at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The discussion will be on the potential growth pattern of Novato and its effect on the existing school system.

Elections will be held for the next school year's officers and board and if the majority of members present voice their approval, installation will also take place that evening.

Mill Valley Golf Winners Announced

The Mill Valley Women's Golf Club has announced winners in its 1966 bridge tournament. They are Mesdames Frederick Fellows and E. J. Halm, first; Lou Long and William Clough, second; Clay Lilleston and James Betts, third; and Henry Helmboldt and L. H. Sumpter, fourth.

Electronic Match

The pilot light on the gas range, that infernal flame that maddeningly refuses to be an eternal light, may soon go the way of unicorns and dodo birds.

One manufacturer has introduced an electronic igniter to replace pilot lights on gas stoves and clothes driers. The "electronic match"—which issues a spark to ignite the gas—uses a silicon-controlled rectifier. (There had to be a trick to it!) The device, which costs $10 to $20, saves its price in gas over a few years. The company adds another advantage: Stoves, when not in use, won't radiate heat because there's no pilot light burning. It's not likely that you ever considered that flame a great heat producer, but take it for what it's worth.

Newcomers Club President To Serve Polynesian Dinner

MRS. CHARLES LACEY

One of the most active clubs socially in the Novato area is the Novato Newcomers Club and its 205 members have elected Mrs. Charles L. Lacey to serve as president for the 1966-67 year.

One of the stipulations in becoming a member of the club is to have lived in Novato less than two years. The new president has lived in Marin County only one year and three months, however, she is a native of Chico and attended Sacramento College.

Mrs. Lacey and her husband, general manager of Ames Ford, are the parents of Ronald, 18, Randy, 12, and Terry, age 9.

Among Patricia Lacey's interests are bridge—she is chairman of the bridge group—homemaking, gourmet cooking and gardening.

The Laceys have a new home on one of the hills of Novato and Patricia has been busy helping to get the grounds landscaped and also decorating the interior of the home.

She has put her love of gourmet cooking to practice as the Newcomers have a new couple's dinner group with a member cooking an entire exotic meal for six couples. Mrs. Lacey is looking forward to serving a Polynesian dinner at her home when the group meets for their next dinner. She plans to serve dishes such as stuffed papaya with chicken and Tahitian salmon salad.

Mrs. Lacey is also a member of the Lynwood Parent-Teacher Assn. and the Novato Hostess Club.

Elected to serve with Mrs. Lacey are Mesdames Gilbert Stewart, vice president and news letter chairman; Charles Stewart, secretary; and Joseph Henderson, treasurer.

The chairmen include Mesdames Kaye Dorsett, activities; Stanley Sarganis, hospitality; George Klose, membership and Paul Steinkamp, co-chairman; Kay Kiefer, program; Roger Neale, publicity; Louis Kapler, remembrance; Victor Maas, reservations; and Leo Curtin, transportation.

The new officers will be installed at a luncheon meeting at Sabella's Marin Restaurant March 16. A social hour will begin at 11 a.m. followed by a noon luncheon.

Masque Unit Will Present Mystery Play

"The Monarch Mystery," a play written by cast member Peggy Bridgman with music by Marge MacLaury, will be presented by the Masque Unit of the Junior Theater of Marin Saturday at the Marin County Day School.

The next day the troup will travel to Sonoma State Hospital to give the play there.

Members of the cast are Janis French of San Rafael as Lazy, Shirley Dockstader of San Rafael as Carolyn, Gloria Bettini of San Rafael as Ginger, Peggy Bridgman of Belvedere as the Guesser, Charleen Fisher of Mill Valley as Nonno, Faye Hanger of Ross as Conno.

Shirley Corliss of Mill Valley will be the Witch, Maio Lashley of Greenbrae as the King, Barbara Stevenson of Mill Valley as the Queen, Carol Weisenburg of San Rafael as the First Guard, Berg Carlsen of San Rafael as the Second Guard.

Mary Brooke McPherson of San Rafael will play the Bear, Aggie Gabrielsen of Ross as the Guide, Mimi Kilgore of Tiburon as the Cowboy, Nancy Atkins of Larkspur as the Man from Outer Space, Nancy McLaughlin of Ross as the Tired-Footed Lady, Elsie Douglass of Ross as Wing Lo, Joan Kraus of Belvedere as a Questionable Character, and Suzanne Oberholtzer of San Rafael as the Dancer.

St. Paddy March Is Biggest Ever

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco held the biggest St. Patrick's Day Parade in its history yesterday, with 150,000 persons lining the parade route for more than three hours.

"Erin Go Bragh" and "Stop the Freeway" banners flapped in consort at the City Hall reviewing stand where the parade's 267 marching units, mostly ROTC drill teams, passed for inspection.

The marching units included 20 Irish wolfhounds, a group of monkeys, some men dressed as cave dwellers and countless Batman impersonators, one of them wearing a sign proclaiming: "Batman is Irish."

The name ounce is applied to the jacquar in Brazil and in central Asia to the snow leopard.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Heaven Can Wait' An Amusing Evening

By KARL BARRON

Two excellent performances and the smoothness of professional direction combine to make "Heaven Can Wait," the Hamilton-Terra Linda Little Theater's latest production, an amusing evening.

The play, which opened Friday night at Theater No. 2, Hamilton Air Force Base, will be presented there this Friday, Saturday and again March 25 and 26 at 8:30 p.m.

"Heaven Can Wait," a 30-year old veteran by Harry Segall, may be familiar to late-late show watchers as "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." Having seen neither the movie nor the play before, I was receptive to the fine comedy touches in Segall's story of a prize fighter whose soul is gathered up by the heavenly watchers before he's actually dead.

Since Joe Pendleton's body has been cremated by his manager, the plot revolves about efforts to find him another casing. The resulting tangle at times becomes howlingly funny, despite a lack of pacing in the present production.

Oddly enough, director Robert Lawrence ("Damn Yankees") has kept it moving in the expository first act, where it's most needed, then allowed his players to slough off in the remainder of the show.

Topping the cast is Dave Minnich as Joe. He captures the brash, youthful bravado of the fighter and never lets it lag. Since Joe is on stage almost continuously, his vibrancy is a tremendous asset.

The top comedy role, Max Levene, is carried off crudely but effectively by Al Leibovitz, who puts over the combined greed, affection and bewilderment of the fight manager with loving zest.

Tom Hartley as Mr. Jordan, the keeper of the heavenly gates, looks quite heavenly with hair and a full beard covered with glitter dust. He then makes the mistake of trying to sound heavenly as well, and succeeds only in being dull.

Supporting roles by Lou Mason and Pat Barby are played spottily, Mason at times achieving a character, and Miss Darby most of the time being unbelievably villainous.

As Betty Logan, the girl Joe falls in love with, JoAnne O'Donnell is pretty, wears numerous lovely changes of clothes, but never approaches reality as an actress.

In the small part of Lefty, Joe Felious (according to the program, playing his first stage role) could give lessons in naturalistic acting to others in the cast. Ferney McKibben as Inspector Williams starts off shouting with good humorous effect, but retains the same decibell rating throughout to lessen his effort.

Sets by Naomi Heid are well done. (We understand they included cutting out new doors in the backstage walls!)

In summation, a production that could have been outright disaster is held together by a couple of sterling performances and bright direction. If you haven't seen the movie, you'll find it an evening well spent, and if you have, we'll still quote from the show's program:

"Live theater is your best entertainment buy."

Cars Drive Off On Mileage Test

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Deserts, mountains, turnpikes and cities — 3,300 miles in all—awaited 52 drivers and their cars today in the 30th annual Mobil Economy Run.

The cars—all new—and their drivers are expected to cross the finish line in Boston March 20.

Tonight the cars will stop in Tucson, Ariz., with successive nightly stops in Albuquerque, N.M., Wichita, Kan., St. Louis, Cleveland, Ohio, and Philadelphia during the week-long mileage test.

Included in the cross-section of standard production-line cars are 11 compacts, 20 intermediate-size autos, 14 standard models, and seven luxury cars. All are equipped with automatic transmission and the California-required smog exhaust device.

Bennett Contends Agents Lacking

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The State Narcotics Department should have more agents to meet the crime increase, according to a candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

"I would consider it practical politics to meet the rising number of arrests with a rising number of enforcement personnel," William M. Bennett of Kentfield told a panel discussion at the University of California School of Law Friday.

"To my knowledge there has not been an increase in personnel at the active agents' level for the past six years," he said.

Bennett said the latest statistics indicate that 90 agents participated in 11,142 adult arrests in the first half of 1965.

Clothing Taken From Washer

Edward H. McDowell of 14 Windward Passage, Corte Madera, took himself to the cleaners yesterday.

At the Paradise Launderette, 5768 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, he placed his dirty clothes in a washing machine, poured in detergent, then went home to wait while the clothes took the suds.

When he returned, he found no dirt on the clothes. In fact, he found no clothes. McDowell told police that someone had fliched the socks, shorts, etc., worth $75.

Recognize Ghana

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI) — Hungary and Czechoslovakia today became the first Communist states to extend recognition to Ghana's new military regime. The announcement by Ghana's National Liberation Council appeared to provide a solid boost to the new regime which has been denounced as "imperialist" and "neo-colonialist" by both Russia and Communist China.

CONCERT REVIEW

Chamber Starts Fifth Season

By ANNA KARTMAN

The Marin Chamber Orchestra, directed by Hugo Rinaldi, presented the first concert of its fifth season yesterday afternoon at Alexander Hall on the San Francisco Theological Seminary campus in San Anselmo before an overflow audience.

Interesting and varied, the program was enthusiastically received.

Leonard Bernstein's "Serenade for Violin Solo, Strings and Percussion," the major work, composed the entire second half of the program. Written in 1954, it was inspired by a re-reading of Plato's charming dialogue, the "Symposium," with musical content and idiom derived from the multitudinous influences of the composer's creative experiences involving American jazz and Hebraic themes.

This complex score is a severe test of the virtuosity of the solo violin, orchestra and conductor. Concert mistress Frances W. Shorr, with her superb technical vitality, exquisite beauty of tone, and complete devotion to the score, was more than equal to the rigorous demands of the solo part.

In the fourth movement the viola section, capably led by Lucien Mitchell, was outstanding for its dark, rich tone. Another high point was the dialogue in the last movement between solo violin and cello, played with sensitivity and refinement by Jean Maguire Mitchell.

Rinaldi's sure-handed baton techniques were at their best in the complex interplay of polyrhythms as he provided strong sense of ensemble, precision and control. His mastery of this work enabled the orchestra to realize fully the intricate melodic design and kaleidoscopic tonal requirements.

To attempt so difficult a work is praisworthy, but to bring it off so successfully is a musical feat.

Opening the program was Charles Griffes's "Poem for Flute and Orchestra" with Pat Hurtado as soloist. Hurtado, with his vibrant tone and subtle nuances, effectively brought out the mysterious impressionistic demands of this work.

The first half of the program concluded with the humorous, gay, Cantata number 212, "The Peasant," by J. S. Bach, in which soprano Marion Marsh and baritone Byron Jones sang their solo roles with consumate style and musicianship.

Miss Marsh's performance was especially notable for its clear, accurate phrasing, and Jones's for his persuasive characterization. Accompanied on the piano by Faith France, they also sang with convincing style the popular duet "La Ci Darem La Mano" from Mozart's opera "Don Giovanni."

Festival Theater Offers Sandburg

San Anselmo's Festival Theater will present the Voices Unlimited production of "The World of Carl Sandburg" for five performances March 25-27 at its theater, Bolinas Avenue at Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

The production, an adaptation by Norman Corwin, is based on Sandburg's poems, prose and songs. Voices Unlimited is a four-member acting company and guitarist-folk singer Richard Jaqua, who will interpret selections from Sandburg's "The American Songbag."

Performances will be March 25 and 26 at 8:30 p.m., and March 27 at 7:30 p.m. and matinees Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m.

Players Rehearse For U.S. Premier

A play, which will have its United States premier in Mill Valley, is in rehearsal at Brown's Hall by the Homestead Valley Players.

It is Lester Cole's "The Inheritors," which traces the origins of racial attitudes in the South at the time of the underground railroad. It will be presented on three successive weekends beginning May 6.

READY FOR 'RHUBARB'

Nelson Remnant Falls In Dublin

DUBLIN (AP) — The Irish army blew-up the remnant of Dublin's Nelson Monument today and in the process broke windows all around.

The plan called for the rest of the column to topple more or less in one piece into an open space. Instead it disintegrated, peppering the area with fragments.

The outlawed Irish Republican Army is generally thought responsible for the explosion last Tuesday which brought down the 20-foot statue of Lord Nelson and the top 40 to 60 feet of the 114-foot column which supported him.

McClellan To Run

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., will seek his fifth term in Congress. McClellan, 70, said in Little Rock last night that, as far as he knew, his health was good and that he was ready if necessary to "make an active and aggressive campaign."

Accidents Take Heavy Toll Of Injured During Weekend

Multiple-injury accidents were a major feature in weekend highway toll in Marin County.

Six were injured in seven-car chain of accidents on Highway 101 north of Alto Saturday night; five more in a two-car crash on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near San Quentin Prison; four when two cars collided on Shoreline Highway at its intersection with Highway 101; three in a rear-end crash near the south end of Richardson Bay Bridge; four in another rear-ender on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo.

Five were injured in a six-car pileup on Highway 101 a mile north of the Alto interchange at 7:45 a.m. Saturday, and the sixth a 43-year-old San Rafael priest, when his car toppled down a 250-foot embankment when he turned to avoid the pile-up.

Rev. William J. Dunn of St. Peter Chanel Seminary, San Rafael, escaped with multiple bruises although his car rolled over several times as it went down the embankment.

Father Dunn was driving north on Highway 101 when he came upon five cars that were swerving and skidding on the wet pavement. He turned right to avoid the collisions and went off the highway, the California Highway Patrol reported. He was not hospitalized.

THE BEGINNING

First a car driven by Josselyn William Hogue, 55, of 52 Greenbrae Boardwalk, collided with the median chain link fence, highway patrol officers reported. Then five northbound cars began to stop because of Hogue's accident, and a series of accidents occurred.

Most seriously injured was one of the drivers, Paul E. Garner, 28, of 512 Entrada Drive, Novato, who suffered a concussion. He was reported in good condition today at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Mrs. Garner, 30, suffered a head injury; daughter Jacqueline, 6, a fracture of the collar bone, and son Paul Jr., 4, minor bruises. All were treated at the airbase hospital.

Another driver, Emily Boykin, 28, of 17 Merrydale Road, Los Ranchitos, suffered neck pains. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Other drivers in the series of accidents were Robert Lee Wright Jr., 19, of San Francisco; Barton W. Schackelford, 45, of 219 Meda Lane, Strawberry Point, and Janos Kazay, 35, of San Francisco. They escaped unhurt.

FIVE HURT

Five were injured when their car veered on a curve and struck a parked car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard just west of the west gate of San Quentin prison at 2:50 p.m. Saturday.

Injured were the driver, Stephen Blaine Ford, 19, of Residence 32, San Quentin, and his four passengers.

Most seriously injured was Shirley Welbourn, 18, of 15 Pleasant Lane, San Rafael, who suffered chest and stomach pains and a fractured right leg. She was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

William Rosser III, 19, of Mission Inn, San Rafael, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for scalp cuts. Linda Burr, 17, of 19 Martens Boulevard, San Rafael, who suffered multiple bruises and scrapes; Emily Jean Marage, 17, of 221 West End Avenue, San Rafael, who suffered a cut lip and bruises of both knees, and Ford, who was cut on the forehead, were treated at Marin General Hospital.

The highway patrol reported Ford's car was eastbound rounding a curve when it struck a parked car owned by Thomas N. Romano of San Francisco.

FOUR INJURED

Four were injured, two seriously, at 9:15 p.m. yesterday when the cars in which they were riding collided on Shoreline Highway at its intersection with Highway 101.

The highway patrol reported Schurley Schuer Jr., 43, of 445 Wellesley Avenue, Mill Valley, was turning north from Highway 101 onto Shoreline when his car was hit by a southbound auto driven by Larry Donald Nixon, 23, of 635 Novato Boulevard, Novato.

Schuer's parents, Schurley Schuer Sr., 71, and Helen Schuer, 63, both of San Francisco, suffered cuts and bruises and were reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, where both drivers were treated for face cuts.

THREE BRUISED

Three were injured at 2:10 p.m. yesterday when a Corte Madera man's car slammed into a stalled auto in the southbound lane of Highway 101 near the south end of Richardson Bay Bridge.

Donald Crook, 46, of 115 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, was southbound on the bridge at about 55 miles per hour when he suddenly came on a stalled auto owned by Gail B. Evans, 45, of 339 Melrose Avenue, Mill Valley, the highway patrol reported.

Crook, his wife, Irmgard Crook, 29, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hedrig Rossner, 54, all of the same address, were treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises.

SORE NECKS

Four members of one family complained of sore necks after their westbound auto on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Suffield Avenue, San Anselmo, was struck from behind by one driven by Charles W. Cristiani, 27, of 236 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, police reported.

Complaining of injuries were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Pilger, both 38, of Palo Alto; Anthony Pilger, 43, of Upper Lake, Lake County, and Anna Pilger of 80 Bothin Road, Fairfax. All said they would see their own doctors. Cristiani was cited for following too closely, police said.

A 27-year-old San Rafael motorcyclist suffered possible internal injuries in a car-motorcycle collision on Highway 101, just north of Highway 17, San Rafael, at 12:15 p.m. Saturday.

Injured was William A. Long of 43 Lisbon Street, who was reported in good condition at Marin General oHspital today.

Long was thrown from his motorcycle when it was hit by a car driven by Robert C. McCloy, 72, of Santa Rosa, the highway patrol reported.

CUT ELBOW

The southbound truck, driven by Norma Jean Botts, 28, of Norwalk, Los Angeles County, stopped because of a mechanical failure, the highway patrol reported. Duarte was not hospitalized.

Albert J. Moffat Jr., 43, of 39 Mariele Avenue, Fairfax, was treated at Marin General Hospital early today for fractured ribs and an injured lip, suffered in an accident at 1427 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, where his westbound auto swerved across the eastbound lane and crashed against a tree.

Police reported that Moffat said he may have fallen asleep at the wheel.

FIRST AID

A 16-year-old San Francisco cyclist was given first aid by Tamalpais firemen yesterday after the bicycle he was riding on Shoreline highway above Muir Beach turnoff hit something, and threw him.

Daniel Davis was found by a scoutmaster at 2:20 p.m. The scoutmaster, whose name was not learned, put Davis's bike in his station wagon and took him to the firehouse where he was treated for head cuts and body bruises. The scoutmaster then took the youth to a San Francisco hospital.

Norlund Lee Brace, 18, of Sonora, suffered a cut right eyebrow and ear when his car swerved on Highway 101 in San Rafael and struck one of the concrete pillars supporting the San Quentin Wye overpass at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Brace told Highway Patrol officers he saw something gray in the roadway and swerved to avoid it. He was held overnight at Marin General Hospital.

CREW OF TWO

Couple Will Sail For South Seas

By BRUCE COLEMAN

It will be a "double-handed" voyage for Alfred Petersen when he sets sail from Sausalito aboard the Stornoway for the Marquesas.

First port of call: Nuku Hiva.

Expected length of cruise in the Pacific: 18 months to two years.

The last time Petersen sailed far into the Pacific, he did it single-handed, circumnavigating the globe in the Stornoway between 1948 and 1952.

On this voyage he will be accompanied by his wife, Marjorie. When in sight of land, it will be watch-on, watch-off. When out of the shipping lanes, they will set the tiller so the cutter will steer itself.

Petersen, 55, a shy man with crew cut and bushy brows, says he hasn't had time to get excited about the cruise because he has been so busy taking care of details.

Barefooted and dungareed, Petersen was "bending on the mainsail." This means getting the mainsail onto the spars, he explained.

The Stornoway, a 33-foot cutter built in 1926 in Essex, Conn., was named for a town on the island of Lewis in Scotland, said the sailor. He explained that a sloop has a mast further forward and a cutter further aft. A cutter has two headstays.

The craft, which Petersen bought in 1948, has black-topped sides and buff deck and trim. It has an 11-foot beam.

The Petersens have lived aboard the ship in Sausalito for the last three and one-half years and, for the most of the time before that, were either in New York or in foreign ports since their marriage in 1952.

A machinist by trade, Petersen worked recently for Associated Dredging Co. in Sausalito. His wife has been working as a San Francisco secretary. "We put aside money with the idea of taking a trip," said the skipper.

They plan to sail to the Marquesas, then to Motus, the Society Islands, the Samoas and perhaps to Tonga and New Caledonia. "Somewhere along the line, we haven't decided where, we will turn back. It's easier to go to the west than to the east because of prevailing winds.

"My grandfather was a seafaring man on a square rigger," Petersen commented. "My father was a wagon maker." Petersen was born in California but lived many years on the East Coast, learning to sail at 16 on Long Island Sound.

He was awarded the Blue Water medal for 1952 by the Cruising Club of America for his single-handed cruise. "It was to the boat and myself," said the modest Petersen.

The voyage has been held up since last fall, partly because of Mrs. Petersen's work on a book, "Stornoway East and West." It tells of their 1958-60 cruise from New York to the Mediterranean, and has been accepted by D. Van Nostrand, New York publishers.

Petersen, who rides a bicycle which he brought aboard ship when he and his mate sailed from New York to San Francisco more than three years ago, says he will leave it behind on this voyage. "We will return to Sausalito," he added.

Asked when they'll get underway, the Stornoway skipper replied, "Maybe Monday or Tuesday or Wednesday. It depends on how we're set up and upon the weather. We'll leave early, on the ebbtide," he said.

SKIPPER AND GOOD FIRST MATE—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Petersen prepare to run up sail on the Stornoway, a 33-foot cutter, for 18-month cruise to the Marquesas in the South Pacific. Petersen has sailed the vessel around the world single-handed. This time, he'll have his wife along as first mate. They plan to leave Sausalito tomorrow or Wednesday. (Independent-Journal photo)

Judge Denies Petition In Bay Fill Plea

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court has denied a long-contested petition by Sausalito Properties Inc. against the City of Sausalito's bay fill moratorium, on grounds that legislation has placed the matter in the hands of the San Francisco Bay Area Conservation and Develop Commission.

Sausalito Properties, seeking $600,000 damages, alleged the city's three-year moratorium was "unreasonable, arbitrary, capricious, discriminatory and in conflict with the expressed purpose and intent of state statutes."

The city's ordinance halted a proposed $10 million waterfront development of apartments, hotel and marina which Sausaliot Properties had proposed on 42 acres largely under water between John and Napa streets.

Judge Keating's ruling said since the moratorium ordinance is superseded, any renewal of the application by Sausalito Properties to the City Council of Sausalito should be referred to the San Francisco Bay Area Conservation and Development Commission, which has jurisdiction.

John L. Rockwell, attorney for Sausalito Properties, said today his client will continue its application through the latter commission, if that is the proper route.

Sausalito Mayor Jan Paul Dyk, notified of the ruling, said, "I 'm delighted. In my mind this means we can go ahead with our program for central waterfront planning under Federal 701 funds."

Laborer, 20, Arrested In Sausalito Theft

A 20-year-old laborer who refused to disclose where he lives was arrested early yesterday by Sausalito police on suspicion of burglary.

Fred L. Hunter was stopped while walking in an open field near the Big G Market in Marinship shortly after police learned that Caruso's Bait, Tackle and Supplies on Gate Five Road had been broken into.

Police found a 10-inch screwdriver in Hunter's pocket. They said Hunter then admitted to the burglary, but later changed his story.

Sid A. McMullen, co-owner of the bait shop, told police at 7:10 a.m. yesterday that six fishing rods, valued at $75, were taken in the break-in, made by smashing a window. The break-in was first reported at 12:44 a.m. by a watchman at the Indusrial Center Building on Harbor Drive.

Drake Site Is Backed By Historian

A noted Elizabethan scholar has added the weight of his research to support the widely held belief that Sir Francis Drake landed in Drake's Bay in 1578.

A. L. Rowse, a fellow of All Soul's College, Oxford, called the shallow bay "the logical place" for Drake to have put his ship ashore for careening and reconditioning of the hull on his round-the-world voyage.

Some 230 persons crowded into Mill Valley's Outdoor Art Club Friday to hear Rowse trace the career of the celebrated master of the Golden Hind.

Rowse, who has written biographies of Queen Elizabeth I, Sir Walter Raleigh and Christopher Marlowe, is en route back to England after spending six months as a senior fellow at Huntington Library in San Marino.

He opened his address with a tribute to the late Adm. Chester Nimitz, a longtime friend with whom he had explored Drake's Bay some months ago. Nimitz died Feb. 20.

Dixie Tax Rate Discussion Set

A proposed 90-cent increase in the Dixie School District's maximum operating tax rate will be the topic of a discussion sponsored by a parents group at 8 p.m. today at Miller Creek School in Marinwood.

Voters in the district will be asked April 19 to approve raising the limit from $2.45 to $3.35 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Speakers will be Asst. Supt. Joseph B. Goff and two members of the district's finance study committee, Dr. D. Gwynn Thomson and George S. Kent. The district board called for the election on recommendation of the committee.

Dance Held Quiet, Noisy By Observers

The teen-age dance in the Corte Madera Recreation Center Friday night: quiet . . . noisy . . . (check one according to your disposition Saturday morning.)

Carl K. Brown, who manages the center for the Corte Madera Lions Club, reported that he and Town Councilman Albert E. Kogler toured a three-block area around the center during the dance and heard no disturbing noise.

However, Loretta M. Damon of 61 Presidio Drive, a couple of blocks from the center, called police at 8:15 a.m. Saturday to report there was a band playing in the center.

She complained that the dance kept her up half the night Friday, then the combo awakened her early the next morning. Officers went to the center and ordered the band to cease the noise.

Brown reported that about six nearby residents accepted his offer and dropped by the dance Friday to observe the activities of the younger set and the restrictions placed on them during dances at the center.

Brown invited residents who sent the town council complaints of noise and litter from the dances to stop by and see the dances for themselves.

Fisherman Dies On Deck Of Boat

A 56-year-old San Francisco fisherman had just landed a big catch off the coast of Marin County yesterday when he collapsed on the deck of his boat, apparently from a heart attack, Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said today.

The boat was put into the Coast Guard station at Point Reyes where Carl Allara, married with three children, was found to be dead at 11:05 a.m. An autopsy was scheduled today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Earns Bronze Star

Capt. Vance E. Sutley, 34, of 123 Canal Street, San Rafael, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for "meritorious service" while serving as the battalion advisor for the 23rd Battalion, with headquarters in Ban Me Thout, Viet Nam.

Television Taken From Apartment

Burglars broke into three apartments at 45 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera, yesterday and made off with a $127 televsion set and some jewelry of unknown value, police reported.

Police said the thieves, working between 5:30 and 9:30 p.m., broke locks on the apartment doors with a pipe wrench. They took the TV set from Chester G. Clinton's apartment and the jewelry from an apartment shared by Sue Gulledge and Jo Ann Hyer. A third apartment was broken into, but was vacant, police said.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning star is Venus; the evening star is Jupiter.

World famous German-American physicist Albert Einstein was born on this day in 1879.

In 1933, Congress approved a measure authorizing the sale of 3.2 beer.

In 1964, a Dallas jury found Jack Ruby guilty of killing presidential assassin Lee Oswald. Ruby was sentenced to death. But his attorneys are still fighting the case.

A Thought for the Day — Albert Einstein said: "As long as there are sovereign nations possessing great power, war is inevitable."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Over-Hasty Finesse Might Be Costlier Than Cheating Foes

If you choose your opponents carefully they will not try to slip cards under the table to each other.

Opening lead — ♡ J

West opened the jack of hearts to dummy's king. South drew trumps with the king and queen, led a heart to dummy's ace and returned a low club.

SOUTH ERRS

East stepped up with the ace of clubs and returned the jack of diamonds.

Give that man a medal for effort, but don't get any medals ready for South.

Declarer tried a finese with the queen of diamonds, losing to the king. Back came a diamond to the ace.

Down one.

DID NOT MATTER

It didn't matter who had the king of diamonds, as long as West had the king of clubs.

South could make the contract by stepping up with the ace of diamonds (instead of playing the queen) and leading another club.

West would have to take his king of clubs but would get only one diamond trick.

South would have a harder time if East had both the ace and king of clubs. Then East would win the second club trick and lead another diamond.

This time South would have to put up the queen of diamonds in the hope that East held the king.

If East started the hand with the king of diamonds, he would still have it.

South's queen of diamonds would be just as good at the eighth trick as it would have been two tricks earlier.

In fact, South would be safe if West had started with K-x of diamonds, since West would be unable to make a safe return after taking his king of diamonds.

Don't be in a hurry to take a finesse that you can safely postpone.

DAILY QUESTION

♣ Q 8 9 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one club.

When you have four clubs and four spades in a hand worth an opening bid, open with one club. You will get a cheap chance to show the spades at your next turn.

If you open with one spade, you may never get a convenient chance to bid the clubs.

A two-family dwelling in staggered design — adjoining, but under two separate roofs. One on the ground floor; the other consists of 2 stories containing a tremendous basement with penthouse and covered deck above. Custom designed and built of finest materials. Each contains 2 spacious bedrooms, 3 baths, tremendous walk-in closets. 2 separate central heating units. 2 separate laundries fully equipped. All-elec. kitchens including matching refrigerators and featuring loads of work space and ash cabinets throughout. Best quality w/w carpeting and custom drapes. Brick fireplaces with raised hearths. Level. Of course, we could go on and on, but we fear the picture we are trying to convey would only create confusion for the simple reason that this property defies description and should be seen in person.

Marinites Make Books For Blind

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

A blind child on some remote American farm or in some distant city may at this moment be reading a special book handmade with loving care by a dedicated woman in Marin County.

Somewhere, a blind person may be playing music from special sheets prepared by another such woman here.

The special books and music sheets are in Braille. Behind their production is a volunteer group of 11 women, who meet every Thursday at the home of Mrs. Alfred Girot at 62 Briar Road in Kentfield. They call themselves the Transcribing Mariners.

They make up one among hundreds of such groups across the country now getting together through the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C., to pool their efforts and resources.

The Transcribing Mariners are the result of painstaking instruction, long hours of practice and a continuing dedication to the task they set themselves: turning printed words into the system of tiny dots read by the fingertips of the blind.

The group got its start in 1961 with an announcement in the Independent-Journal that Laura Bosworth, who teaches blind and visually handicapped children in Marin County schools, would give a course in transcribing Braille at College of Marin.

Mrs. Girot and a friend, Mrs. Willard Hinckley of Kentfield, decided to go. There they met another longtime friend, Mrs. Lee Marriott of San Rafael, now chairman of the group.

The one-year course requires a two-hour evening class once a week and a minimum of two hours daily practice at home.

"It's not easy," said Miss Bosworth, "and those who stick with it are the cream of the crop."

The others who stuck with it and later joined the group are Mrs. Norman Kester and Mrs. Earl Murphy of Greenbrae, Mrs. Joseph Eck of Fairfax, Mrs. Arnold Nutting of San Anselmo, Mrs. Sibyl Schneller of Mill Valley and Opal Clark, Helen Heisserman and Cora Reitz of Larkspur.

Each of the woman has a brailler at her home, where, Mrs. Girot estimated, each does "at least two or three hours work a day." One cannot put in much more time, she said, "because it gets very hard on the hands and eyes."

The braillers are punches with six keys which produce the raised dots in a variety of 180 combinations that form the braille code. Many of these $90 braillers have been given by Marin Lions Clubs.

"The Lions have been wonderful. They've been the mainstay of the group," Mrs. Marriott said.

The Lion's latest contribution has been a $500 Thermoform machine which can make additional copies of a braille book from the initial master copy prepared by the women.

Since it takes 20 minutes to braille, proofread and correct a single sheet, but only two seconds to reproduce it on the machine, months of work may be saved in the reproduction of a single book.

Mrs. Girot recalled spending three and four hours a day for three months transcribing the 181 pages of Quentin Reynolds' "The Wright Brothers." In braille, it filled four volumes. "I'd hate to have to make two copies the old way," she said.

The machine now enables the group to keep a master copy of a book available. The title is then sent to the Library of Congress, which is assembling a file of such titles and their locations.

"We check with the library before starting a book. If it's been done, they tell us where to write for a copy. If it hasn't been done, we get the publishers' permission and go ahead," Mrs. Marriott explained.

In the same way, other groups can write to the Marin Transcribers for copies of their books, thus avoiding duplication of long hours of transcription.

Most of the group's work to date has been on leisure reading for children. Braille textbooks are supplied by the state for classroom use.

Frequently, however, Miss Bosworth will call on the group for braille exercises or literature to be used by blind students.

Mrs. Marriott recalled working for six months transcribing a special French textbook for a girl in a local high school. "I kept one jump ahead of her," she said, "and supplied it a lesson at a time."

Supplying the needs of youngsters has been one of the most satisfying aspects of their volunteer work. Said Mrs. Girot, "I think anyone who has had children feels that way. My own children were healthy and privileged. Once they were grown, I wanted to do something for less fortunate children."

Adults, too, benefit from their efforts. Until she died recently an elderly blind woman in a local nursing home was supplied regularly with books by the group.

In addition to the hours spent in their homes, the women gather every Thursday in the cheerful onetime guest house on the Girot's property, which is now the transcribers' headquarters and workshop. Here, they proofread each other's work accumulated during the week, bind books, reproduce finished works, and plan the coming week.

SO MORE BLIND MAY READ— Max S. Martin, chairman of projects for the blind of Marin County Lions Club, learns from Mrs. Lee Marriott of the Transcribing Mariners some things about operation of Thermoform machine the Lions Clubs gave the group. The machine will reproduce braille transcriptions, making it possible to turn out duplicate copies of books which have been put into braille in long hours of work by the transcribers. How Are All The Little Troops?

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Olvy Sheppard, a captain in the Salvation Army, pulled into a service station, got gas, and presented the organization's credit card.

Sheppard then signed the slip: "Salvation Army, by Olvy Sheppard."

"That's an unusual first name," the attendant remarked.

Sheppard explained it's a fmily name and started to drive away.

"Well," the sttendant said. "Come back again, Mr. Army."

Previous titles include Roswell Junior Miss, Miss Roswell and Future Farmers of America Princess

U.S. Using More Glass Than Ever

Almost 30 billion new glass containers were produced to carry items ranging from soda pop to catsup, according to estimates made for the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute.

Counting the re-use of millions of bottles for milk, soft drinks and beer, Americans consumed some 72 billion bottles and jars of glass-packaged products in 1965.

That averages out to more than 375 per capita—more than any other type of rigid container.

Coeds Too Smart?

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — The Confirmed Bachelors' Club at Auburn University appears to be fighting a losing battle against the lure of matrimony. "This could be the beginning of a great movement," lamented club founder Doug Jones of Atlanta, Ga., "except for the fact that we can't keep our members." The club started with four members—and at last count they were the only ones left in in it.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Hip Fractures Common After 50 But Modern Surgery Very Helpful

VAN DELLEN

Hip fractures are most common after the age of 50 and are five times more likely to occur to women. The victim usually slips on a scatter rug, curb, ice or in a wet tub, and falls on the hip. Now and then the opposite occurs in oldsters with brittle bones; the hip breaks first and then they fall.

Forty years ago this type of fracture was almost a death sentence. Fifty per cent died from the ill effects of prolonged bed rest and the broken bones failed to knit in half the survivors. The situation changed when metallic implants such as nails, screws, and pins became available. Broken parts also can be replaced with a metal prosthesis. This type of surgery requires sound mechanical and surgical skill.

THE HIP is like the handle on a cane with its neck and knob or ball protruding into the socket of the pelvic bone. The fracture usually occurs in the neck separating the ball from the rest of the thigh bone. The amount of pain varies and is most severe when the extremity is moved.

There are various devices to bring the broken parts together. The operation is done on a special table with X-ray attachments to make sure that the pins, nails, or screws are going in the right direction. Many improvements have been made in these appliances to prevent the metallic parts from festering, loosening, or moving into the joint. For example, the head of the nail is attached to a plate that is fastened with four screws to the thigh bone. This prevents the nail from loosening and backing out.

THE VICTIM should not bear weight on the fractured extremity until there is X-ray evidence of a bony union. This may take three months but meanwhile the person is ambulatory with crutches. Some complications cannot be avoided. When the fracture line cuts off the blood supply to the end of the bone, the ball or knob may soften and disintegrate.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BILINGUAL

H. D. writes: Is it all right to speak two languages to a young child or will this confuse him?

REPLY

This depends upon the child. It is not wise if speaking two tongues leads to confusion. On the other hand, many European children learn two or more languages and weather the storm.

LEG NUMBNESS

A. S. writes: Does numbness of the legs indicate hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

Not necessarily, because many conditions are capable of producing this symptom. This question can be answered only after the circulation, nerves, and blood have been tested by your physician.

OPEN SORE

B. R. writes: Why does a stomach ulcer hurt?

REPLY

Because it is an open sore that is being bathed constantly in hydrochloric acid. This is appreciated by anyone who has had a canker sore in the mouth; pain and burning follow the taking of vinegar or orange or lemon juice.

CHARCOAL

Mrs. D. writes: I like burned toast but my family insists I'm harming my insides by eating it. Please comment.

REPLY

Burned toast will not harm the body, and I appreciate the fact that some families are difficult to convince.

Hairdoes Are Aid To Student Cheating

The director of Beirut's French Protestant College declared that the girl's heads are so shrouded in drooping hair that teachers can no longer see their students' eyes, and the girls are copying each other's work at their desks.

The schoolmistress paid a call on the head of the Coiffures Syndicate and made him order all beauty parlors to refuse to give low-hanging cuts to any of her students.

Museum Sets Art Contest For Pupils

An art contest open to pupils in first through sixth grades of Marin County schools opened today under sponsorship of the Marin Museum Assn.

As part of its art appreciation program, the association plans to award $20 to the youngster who submits what judges consider the best picture illustrating the theme "children in a museum."

Pictures may be in ink, crayon, tempera or water color. They will be judged on the basis of originality, neatness and suitability to the theme.

Entries, according to Mrs. Robert Milmoe of the association, must be submitted by March 25 to Mrs. Margaret Daniel in the county schools office at Marin Civic Center.

A. F. Reserve Program Slated For Novato High

Novato High School has been selected to participate in the Junior Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program beginning with the 1966-67 school year, Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, Calif., reported from Washington.

Clausen was so notified by the Department of the Air Force.

The ROTC Vitalization Act of 1964 authorizes the Air Force and the Navy, as well as the Army, to establish Junior ROTC at selected high schools throughout the United States.

Priest Asks Out Over Birth Control

KNIGHTON, England (UPI) — A Roman Catholic priest has asked Pope Paul VI for permission to leave the priesthood in protest against the church's attitude on birth control, it was reported today.

Father Alan M. Lynn, 40, a priest for eight years, said church rulings on birth control "are making life impossibly difficult for many Roman Catholic married couples."

Draft Call Lowered To 21,700 In April

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department's monthly draft call has dropped to 21,700 men for April — the lowest since last August shortly after the Viet Nam military buildup began.

All of April's quota will go to the Army. The Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force are meeting their needs through voluntary enlistments, the department said Friday.

Marincello Tells Of Taxes Paid

More than $157,000 in taxes in the past five years have been paid to Marin County as a result of the Marincello development, according to Thomas Frouge, developer.

About one-quarter of the taxes went to Sausalito School District, which received more than $31,000 in taxes from Marincello in the past two years although no school children live there at present, Frouge said.

Frouge, chairman of the board of Frouge Corporation, said "our goals for the Marincello Master Plan is to offer some tax relief for Marin County, in addition to providing open space with a variety of living accommodations."

TIBURON—THE YOUNG CITY

Victory Shouts Are Over And Growing Pains Start

By ALAN M. ADELSON

After two decades of squabbling over boundaries, taxes and governmental philosophy, a vanguard of peninsula residents on June 23, 1964, won their fight to make Tiburon a city.

What good has it done?

Many residents are proud to have "home rule" for the area. Some say its problems will work out with time. But a surprising number of the leaders in the fight for incorporation now find themselves hard put to tell just what good the move did, and a few sorrowfully say the drive for incorporation was an outright mistake.

"Working for incorporation was one of the biggest mistakes I've ever made," said Fred Mantegani, partner in the Corner Market on Tiburon Boulevard and owner of 10 homes around the city.

Mantegani, one of the most active supporters of the incorporation movement, said his greatest reason for wanting Tiburon to become a city was to get more police protection.

"We're getting a little more policing now than we did then, but we certainly aren't getting our money's worth," he complained. "The business district is still going largely unpatrolled."

Disgruntlement with Tiburon's city government seems to center around its lack of action in solving the four major needs for which Tiburon was made a city: Planning, parking, policing, and drainage.

City Councilman Fred C. Hannahs was a prime mover in the incorporation movement. On Feb. 23, 1962, he bore a stack of petitions with 1,300 signatures asking an election for incorporation to the county clerk. Yet he is one of the first to decry the council's "inability to come to grips with the problems for which it was created."

"Recently I've had to admit to the people who opposed incorporation that what they warned would happen has actually come to pass," he said.

"They said we'd never take care of our roads the way the county did, and I guess that was right. They said that we wouldn't do as high a level of planning as the county could do, and that was especially true.

"Generally, the opponents of incorporation said that the benefits received from becoming a city wouldn't be equal to the increased tax burden put on the residents. As of this time, that, too, has proved correct."

But Hannahs insists he is not giving up on cityhood. A candidate for re-election in the April 12 city council election, he said last week in a campaign speech:

"I find myself running now on the same platform I ran on two years ago. I wanted more downtown parking, better planning, and better drainage. I am still trying to get all of these things."

"I've just plain gotten discouraged with it all," said Mantegani. "I went to council and planning commission meetings for eight months. Then I just gave up. It wasn't seeming to do any good."

Mrs. Paske says she is reluctant to speak her mind about what's been happening in Tiburon because of "the devastating effect it would have on the council. I'd better just stay out of it and see if they can pull through."

Disincorporation, a move by which the voters of the city could again return the area to its former spot beneath the county's wing, is a sort of bitter joke now.

June 24, people say, quoting the day, is when, after two years of cityhood expire, they could dissolve the local government.

No one has come out in support of the idea publicly, but people readily admit that it could happen.

Perhaps more than anyone else, City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose is feeling the pressure of Tiburon's infant years.

Once the ctiy manager of Carmel, Rose said recently, "Trying to put a brand new city on its feet has been an excruciatingly difficult thing. I'd never do it again."

"Incorporating a city is like getting married," he said. "You really don't know what you're getting into until you do it. People vote for incorporation because they want to see something special done, like planning, or a drainage system. Or police protection.

"But it takes time for these things to get rolling, and while at first everyone is blissful with their new state of living, pretty soon the honeymoon ends. While they're waiting for the plan to be developed, or for the money to be raised to build a police force or construct a drainage system, planty of them are just bound to get disenchanted."

TELEVISION REVIEW

Did Commercials Ruin 'Place In Sun'

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —If you saw NBC-TV's Saturday night movie, "A Place in the Sun," during the weekend, did you think its artistic quality was emasculated by the way the commercials were inserted?

Probably you have thought of this point while watching other films on television, and had definite opinions, but in this particular case the issue is expected to wind up in court.

And the answer to the question may mark an historic point in the relationship of motion pictures and how television uses them.

Saturday's showing of "A Place in the Sun," which stars Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor and Shelly Winters in an adaptation of Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy," was watched with great interest by moviemakers who claim video butchers their films.

The reason for the more-than-normal attention to the showing of a movie on television is that, not long ago, a Los Angeles judge warned at a hearing that NBC-TV must not insert the ads in a way that would "emasculate" the picture"s artistic quality.

Although the full trial is still in the future, unless it is for some reason avoided, the judge's ruling was in itself somewhat historic. For it suggested that the placement of commercials can affect an artistic work and, by implication, its creator's reputation.

The creator of the film was George Stevens, who produced and directed it, and who took the television matter to court.

The judge seemingly didn't feel he could outlaw the ad totally from the film. Stevens apparently felt that a former contractual arrangement gave him final approval of the showing of the movie, and that this meant he could prevent it from being seen if it was aborted in any way —with the use of commercials being one such way.

Under the circumstances, the judge's ruling gave NBC-TV the consolation of being able to present the film classic even with the commercials Stevens opposed. But by far the greater victory went to the producer-director, at least in the opening round, because of the jurist's admonition to the network that a creator has rights.

Now the question is: WAS "A Place in the Sun," in the court's terminology, "emasculated" in the Saturday night

And wouldn't it be a dilly of a trial if expert witnesses were called and gave samples of past television effect on movies? And how hard can —and will— the corporate movie industry fight anyway for the independent creators now that the business offices of the studios are tied to a shotgun marriage with television?

Some viewers of "A Place in the Sun" Saturday may feel that under the system as it now exists on video, NBC-TV tried to do as respectable a job with commercials as it could in what is basically an impossible situation for sanity.

Other viewers, however, may well feel that no matter how hard the network may have tried, the movie had its greatness compromised and therefore its artistic quality also.

No one—not even television people—would argue that a movie with commercials is as appealing as one without. And one is curious how viewers react to the commercials that followed the memorable Clift-Taylor love scene and the famous Clift-Winters seduction passage.

One thing the showing reaffirmed—"A Place in the Sun" stands up as a great motion picture. And Miss Taylor's restrained farewell scene with Clift in jail, before he goes to the electric chair, is probably the most beautiful and the finest she has ever played.

Classes For Adults Scheduled By Tam

The Tamalpais Union High School District has scheduled 37 adult evening classes for the spring quarter which begins March 28.

Classes will be held at both Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake high schools. Pre-registration, open to those over 18, will be held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at Tamalpais High on March 21 and at Drake High on March 22.

Tuition fees are charged to students 21 or over, except for courses in Americanization, English for the foreign born and high school fundamentals. The fee is $4 for most courses. Exceptions are upholstery, $8; ceramics, $5; woodworking, $6; driver instruction, $22; underwater safety, $12.

The upholstery classes, for which there is a waiting list, are held at Tamalpais High Mondays and Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m.

Monday night classes at Tamalpais High are in woodworking, bookkeeping and typing, Americanization, drama workshop, children's clothing, swimming, French and history of Marin County.

Driver instruction and American Government are held both Mondays and Tuesdays at Tamalpais High.

United States history and general math, which are graduation requirements, meet at Drake both Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Disaster Unit Chairman Named

Johnson said Saturday he would nominate Bryant as director of the Office of Emergency Planning to succeed former Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee, who resigned.

In the $28,500-a-year job, Bryant also will sit on the National Security Council, manage the government's stockpiles and serve as the President's representative to the governors.

Civil Defense, Marincello Sewer On Board's Agenda

Discussion of County Administrator Alan Bruce's recommendation that the county Civil Defense office be closed will be discussed by the board at 9:30 a.m.

Development of a county master plan study on the extension of sewers for not-yet-built areas and revisions of system in existing areas will be discussed at 10:30 a.m. The county staff has been negotiating for several months for a consulting engineer to prepare the master plan.

Next item on the agenda is continued discussion of Bruce's proposal that 15 acres adjacent to Tamalpais State Park — now held by the county — be sold. The county purchased the property three years ago to block development with the belief the state would buy it. But the state has not yet made the county a fair offer, Bruce says.

Supervisors will probably not discuss the first phase development plan for Marincello at much length tomorrow. Although the plan, a road up to the ridge above Tennessee Valley, does not require public hearing, Bruce has recommended that the board hold a hearing on the proposal April 5 before taking any action.

Teacher Strike Will Continue

NE WORLEANS, La. (AP) — Striking teachers pledged to stay out again today in the first Deep South effort to win collective bargaining rights for their union, the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO.

About 450 members of the 1,400-strong Local 527 voted last night to continue their strike indefinitely.

The union, whose membership is 80 per cent Negro, began its strike against the Orleans Parish School Board last Friday and claimed about 700 skipped classes that day.

Jack Hammer, Saw, Drill Are Stolen

Nicholas Priest of Daly City, owner of N. L. Priest Construction Co. of San Francisco, reported to the Marin County sheriff's office Friday that someone took construction equipment valued at $660 from a tool shed at the rear of 21 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow.

Priest said the burglary occurred between 4:45 p.m. Thursday and 7:30 a.m. Friday. Taken was a jack hammer, valued at $400; a power saw, $160; and an angle drill, $100. Deputies said there was no sign of forced entry.

Nazis Picket DuBois Members

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— About 300 members of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs protested a U.S. Justice Department petition that the club register as a Communist front organization with a peaceful rally yesterday. Three members of the American Nazi Party picketed the demonstration.

Wearing storm trooper uniforms, the Nazis carried anti-Negro and anti-semitic signs for about 30 minutes a the rally in front of the Federal Office Building here.

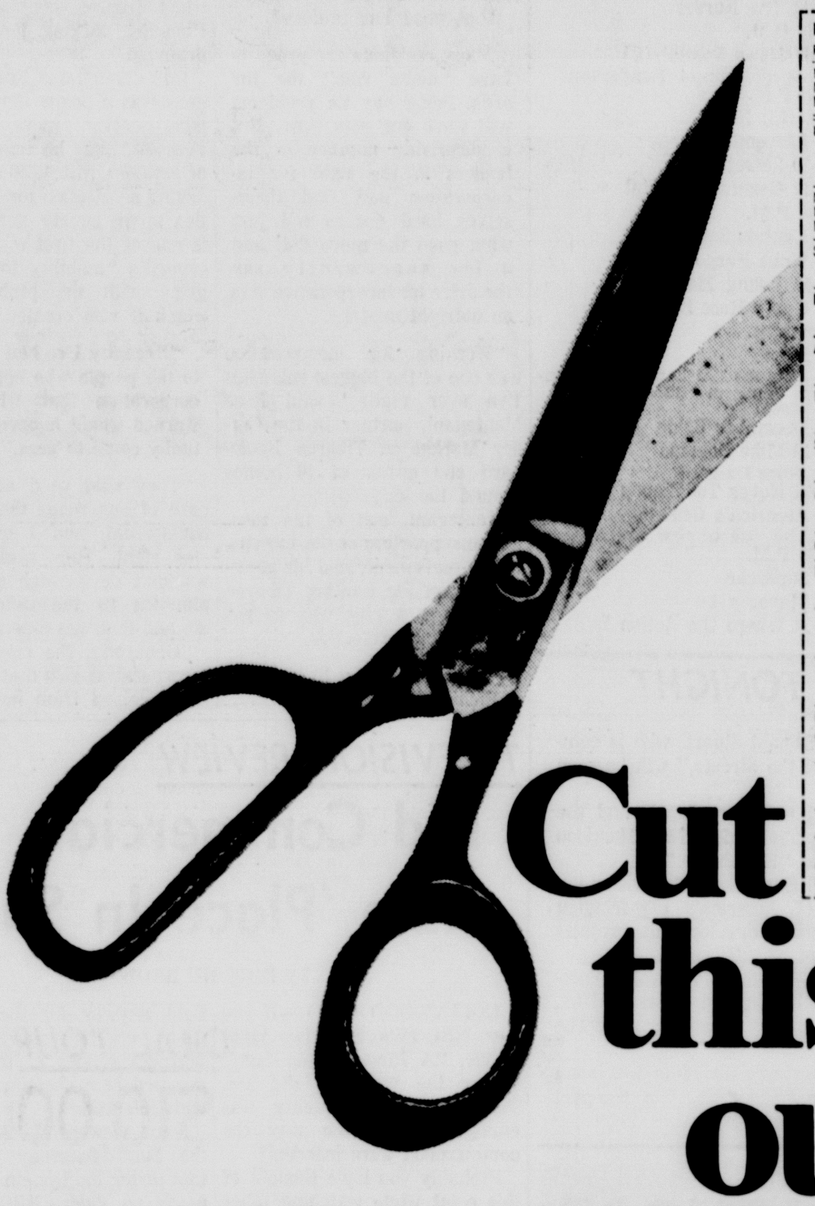

Terrance Hallinan, son of Belvedere attorney Vincent Hallinan, the DuBois Club's national executive secretary, repeated his accusation that Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach's registration petition was responsible for the bombing of the club's national headquarters here March 6.

Only One Volunteer

A single applicant, a woman, appeared Saturday to take the two-hour Peace Corps placement test at the San Rafael Post Office. Her identity was not disclosed.

Drake Celebrates Tournament Consolation Victory

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It will be a while before all the excitement dies out at Drake High School in San Anselmo.

The Drake kids reaped a harvest at the Tournament of Champions basketball classic in Berkeley. The Pirates basketball team has a trophy, its key player has his own all-star trophy, and the entire student body has one of its own.

It all came about after the Pirates won the consolation championship last Saturday night, nipping Salesian High School of Richmond 60-59 in the finals of the three-day tourney in University of California's Harmon Gym.

The winning basket came with only seven seconds left in the game, a hook shot by center Bob Tobin, the 6-5 star who was named to the 10-man All-Tournament team.

Throughout the tournament, a lot of talk was heard around the gym about the talents of Drake's basketball team. An equal amount of words were said in praise of the big green and white rooting section, and it was a surprise to no one when Drake captured one of three cheering section awards. The other two went to McClymonds of Oakland and Arroyo of San Leandro, whose teams played in the championship game. Arroyo won it by upsetting eight-time champ McClymonds 55-53.

Lincoln of San Francisco won third place, thumping Berkeley 69-58. It was Arroyo's first try at Tournament of Champions play and its title was the first TOC top price for a Hawyard Athletic League representative.

Drake, champ of the Marin Athletic League, fell into the consolation bracket after losing its tourney opener to McClymons, 51-47, last Thursday. Drake drubbed Sonoma of the North Bay League Friday, 59-45, and then came Saturday's thriller.

The Pirates couldn't control Salesian hot-shot Ray Allen in the early part of the game Saturday and found themselves down 18-10 at the first quarter mark. Allen pumped through 9 of those 18 points, as he proved too much for one man to handle.

Drake really rambled in the second quarter, hanging up 23 points on the scoreboard to take a 33-31 lead off the court at intermission. Jerry Sprout, Drake's 6-5 junior forward, and guard Bill Ingram had the hot hands in that quarter, Sprout scoring seven points and Ingram six. Two of Sprout's second quarter field goals were alert ones, the first on a tip-in after Will Curley missed and the second on a follow-shot after Tobin rimmed the hook on a free throw.

It was forward Chet Carlisle's turn in the third quarter, the junior hitting three straight field goals, and meshing a free throw for a three-point play on the last one, putting the Pirates in front 46-42. But Salesian's Allen and Dennis Ferguson, the other guard, teamed up for nine quick points and boosted the Chieftains in front at the three-quarter point, 51-49.

The final quarter was a wild and woolly affair. Drake got back the lead at 54-53 when Curley, who played a great floor game throughout the tourney, hit a 15-footer. Salesian missed a shot and Drake got the ball back. Working the ball from player to player, Ingram finally got clear and popped through a short jumper to put the Pirates on top by three with 2:42 left in the game.

Baby Bull Passes Test As Giants Blast Tribe

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Orlando Cepeda passed his first major test and the big slugger of the San Francisco Giants didn't try to hide his emotions.

"A great, great feeling," Cepeda exclaimed after starting and playing five full innings for the Giants in yesterday's 6-2 victory over Cleveland.

Hitting honors went to Willie Mays and relief pitcher Frank Linzy turned in a great performance, but most attention focused on Cepeda and the right knee which kept him out of action most of last year.

Cepeda said he felt he could play again today against the Leo Durocher-managed Chicago Cubs who invade Phoenix for two games. Manager Herman Franks wanted to wait and see if there was any stiffness in the knee.

It seemed apparent, however, that should Cepeda be able to put in a full regular season, his post will be in the outfield with Willie McCovey holding onto the first base job which Orlando vacated because of the disability.

"He's a heck of a fielder," said Franks of the 6-foot 4-inch McCovey, who belted 39 homers last season.

Cepeda opened in left field and said he had no troubles there although Mays would drift quickly from center field in case his fielding assistance would be needed.

Captain Mays belted a 400-foot home run in the fourth inning off Lee Stange and also threw a runner out at home for the second time in as many games. The victim this time was catcher Howie Edwards, trying to score from second on Vic Davalillo's single.

Linzy, the ace reliever of last season, came on in the seventh with the bases full and dangerous Rocky Colavito at bat. His first pitch was a strike and then Colavito hit into a force play, retiring the side.

Cepeda twice came to bat with the bases full and didn't get a hit. This didn't worry Franks who knows the Puerto Rican's hitting ability and worries only about whether he'll be able to play.

"He looked good. His swing still seems a little bit behind the ball. After being out a year like he has, it takes a little longer to catch up."

The Giants now are 2-0 in the Cactus League after two triumphs over Cleveland, 17-8 on Saturday and then yesterday's 6-2 verdict.

A Part Of Your Youth Retires

Feel a little older this morning, do you?

Notice a few gray hairs that weren't there yesterday?

Join the group. Now you know how a lot of us feel this gloomy Monday. John Longden has hung up his tack.

A California race meeting without John Longden in the irons? Unthinkable! Insupportable! France without love. Paris without music. Germany without bands. Baseball without beer. Weddings without tears.

Not see The Pumper in a backstretch?! Not a watch a little silken gnome of a man giving the horse 1,100 pounds in weights and 60 years in age and winning the wrestling match?! What do we do now—root for some young whipper-snapper?

WAS IS really 16 years ago that you watched him come down the homestretch your heart pounding in what may have been the greatest race ever? The greatest horse ever? The great, wilful, black Noor, holding the mighty Citation on the rail where his rider couldn't whip and he could run on curage alone. Did Noor win that race? Or did Longden? Do birds sing? Trees grow? Does the sun shine?

WAS IT clear back in 1955 when he brought a great red-gold colt flashing home in front in the Santa Anita Derby and the magic racing word "Swaps" went out over the A-wire for the first time? Did they take Swaps away from John because they said he was "too old?" Did he ever forgive the owners? Was he only 50 at the time?

WERE WE Keeping Cool With Coolidge when John first threw a leg over a no-chance mare in one of his first starts? Weren't we watching Cagney walk the Last Mile, singing "Brother, Can You Spare a Dime?" Wasn't it only yesterday?

Wasn't he an experienced rider about the time talking pictures came in? America's richest horse race paid a princely $25,000. Wasn't a goof named Hitler making an ass of himself in Europe about the time of his first thousand winners?

WAS THERE a trick he didn't learn from the bull ring tracks at the border, the leaky roof traps in the Applachians, the neat hedge rows of Belmont, the half-mile ovals of Dixie?

Did he become the greatest of them all? Did he outlast Arcaro, Silvio Coucci, Neves, Sonny Workman, Sande, Laverne Fator? Did anybody write poems about never let Longden out of his sight even in an overnight?

DID HE ride a 32,500 races, win 6,030? Did any other rider?

Did he see two of his best friends killed on the track in front of him and yet did he get right back aboard himself in the next race? Did they pick him up in pieces a few times and yet he showed up in the paddock as soon as the cast was off?

DID THEY give him glue pots to ride in recent years? Did he complain or did he just ride them? Will we see his like again? Don't stand on tiptoe waiting.

Old age should creep up on a man. A gray hair here, a uniform that won't button any more there. A doctor saying "The old ticker's not getting any younger, you know."

YOU SHOULDN'T find it out picking up a newspaper and seeing "Longden Retires—'Too Old to Win,' Says."

Moffat Second In Net Tourney

Andy Moffat of Mill Valley was runner-up in the boys 14 singles portion of the Northern California Tennis Championships held on the Stanford University courts in Palo Alto.

Moffat, 14, lost to Paul Sidone of Pebble Beach in the finals yesterday, 6-3, 6-2. Mark Vance of San Anselmo made it to the semi-finals of Boys 18 before losing to top-seeded Steve Cornell of Oakland, 6-2, 6-2.

More than 300 youngsters competed in the early-season tourney, sponsored by the Mid-Peninsula Tennis Patrons Assn.

Stark Is Singles Pin King

Rich Curry and Wally Mays appear to be the winners of doubles and Tom Stark the singles, according to unofficial final standings in the 18th annual Marin County Bowling Assn. tournament.

Team event was held at Country Club Bowl, with San Rafael Marine Repair winning. Singles and doubles were held at Greenbrae Lanes. The tourney ended yesterday.

The all-events portion of the tourney hasn't been compiled as yet, but it appears that Henry Parrish's total of 1968 is tops.

Official final standings will be posted at all Marin County bowling establishments by Friday, said Dick Treadway, MCBA secretary.

TEAM STANDINGS

DOUBLES

SINGLES

MARIN RUNNER SETS RECORD

San Rafael High School graduate Mike Shafer set a meet record for the 880-yard run Saturday as his California Bears teammates defeated Occidental at Los Angeles in a dual track and field meet, 74-71.

Shafer was clocked over the half mile in 1 minute, 52.7 seconds, bettering the 1:52.9 meet mark set in 1964 by California's Marty Ziebarth.

Marin Lacrosse Team Wins, 7-3

Peacock Gap Lacrosse Club whipped the San Francisco Lacrosse Club 7-3 Saturday at Hamilton Field to even its record at 1-1.

Buck Stevens and Tom Heaton each scored three goals for the Marin team, with Hugh Scott adding the other. Hugh Kitchner led the San Francisco attack with two goals.

Peacock Gap goes against the Palo Alto Lacrosse Club next Saturday at Stanford University, 1:30 p.m.

PREP BASEBALL

Redwood Defeats Santa Rosa, 4-1

Redwood High School's baseball team will be trying for its third straight win tomorrow when the Giants take on El Camino High in South San Francisco.

Santa Rosa was victim number two, losing 4-1 to Redwood last Friday. Kevin Wilson was the winning pitcher, striking out four and allowing no hits in the three inning he worked.

In addition to his pitching, Wilson smacked a triple. First baseman Jack Fitzhenry rapped a single to drive in what proved to be the winning two runs in the second inning.

Novato Washout; Terra Linda Splits

In other prep baseball action, Novato's game with Ukiah, scheduled for Ukiah, was washed out, and Terra Linda split a doubleheader with St. Ignatius of San Francisco Saturday afternoon at Albert Field in San Rafael.

Since Ukiah is coming to Novato for a scheduled game tomorrow at 3:30 p.m., the game on the Ukiah field was cancelled.

Marin Catholic Player Injured

The Healdsburg team scored both of its runs in the third inning of a game that was blemished by the fact that Wildcat junior first baseman Mike Giacomini suffered a broken hand in the final frame. Marin Coach Gary Hughes said it is not yet known whether the injury will keep Mike out of action for the remainder of the season. The answer to that question will be determined by the X-rays.

Wildcat Brian King starred in relief for the Marin boys, coming in in the fourth frame and striking out the first six batters he faced in the next two innings. Giacomini, Joe Adams and Jerry Handlos all collected singles for the Wildcats.

DORAL TOURNAMENT

$10,000 Victory For Phil Rodgers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Phil Rodgers started playing it loose and easy, and rediscovered the combination to golf's big cash.

"In seven tournaments during the past year I led at some stage in the last round," the pudgy pro from La Jolla, Calif., said today as he moved from the $20,000 first prize in the Doral Open here to a shot at the $100,000 Citrus Open at Orlando.

"I was getting to feel that I was jinxed or something. Then I decided to change my swing. I loosened up on it. I began hitting the ball 15 yards farther. Things started going better."

Rodgers, 27, a wise-cracking Yogi Berra of the fairways, ended a three-year slump yesterday when he beat out a pair of stubborn outsiders, Kermit Zarley of Yakima, Wash., and Jay Dolan of Leicester, Mass., for his first tournament triumph since 1963.

The clinching sot was a 40-foot birdie putt on the 71st hole. Zarley bogeyed the hole from a trap and missed an eight-foot birdie putt on the final hole that would have given him a tie.

Rodgers finished with a 70 for 278, 10 under par. Zarley and Dolan had 279. Arnold Palmer tied at 281 for fourth with Ray Floyd, Jack McGowan, Frank Beard and Johnny Pott. Jack Nicklaus shot 283.

"In the Bob Hope Classic at Palm Springs, I had a chance to win when I bogeyed the last hole, a par 5 that could be easily birdied," he said. "That's the way my luck has been running until now.

The jaunty Californian joined the tour in July, 1961, and in the winter of 1962 was hotter than a dollar pistol. He won three tournaments and placed in the top five in six others.

In the 1962 National Open at Oakmont, won by Nicklaus in a playoff with Palmer, Phil finished only two strokes back although he took 8 on one hole when he hit into a small spruce tree and four-putted another hole.

Last year he went on a crash diet, dropping from near 200 to 170, and collected some $25,000. But he didn't win a tournament.

He figured he was a bit too tensed up. So he decided just to relax and start belting the ball.

At the same time, he picked up a new putter — an awesome looking tool with a 39-inch shaft — and started sinking putts.

"It's about four inches longer than most putters, and I slide my right hand about a foot down the shaft," he explained. "Paul Runyan tipped me off on it.

Power Boys Find Range Early In Spring Exhibitions

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball's sluggers are beginning to find the range. Willie Mays hit his first home run of the spring yesterday. So did Boog Powell. And so did Choo Choo Coleman.

Choo Choo Coleman?

Mays and Powell are acknowledged sluggers. Choo Choo Coleman is a New York Met. Or, at least he'd like to be a New York Met.

Choo Choo Coleman was a New York Met four years ago when the whole legend of baseball's best losers began. In fact, he played an important role in starting the Met saga. It was Choo Choo Coleman who hit the first New York Met home run and drove in the first New York Met runs' way back in 1962.

It happened in a spring training game against the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla., and yesterday Coleman duplicated the feat as the Mets blanked the Cards 3-0.

Westrum was giving Choo Choo the benefit of the doubt but he could afford to be generous after two straight exhibition victories.

"It's great to be with a winner," grinned Casey Stengel's successor.

Coleman is not on the Mets' roster but he's working out with New York and could win a job on the thin catching staff. There's nothing he'd like better. The last time he was in the National League, the Mets were still playing their home games in the Polo Grounds.

Mays, who led the major leagues with 52 homers last year, whipped a 400-foot shot off Cleveland's Lee Stange as the Giants downed the Indians 6-2.

Baltimore got the winning run in the ninth inning on a triple by rookie Mike Epstein and catcher Camilo Carreon's single. Carreon was acquired by the Orioles from Cleveland Thursday.

Rookie Lee Elia drove in the only run of the game with a ninth inning double as the Chicago White Sox nipped Cincinnati 1-0. Pete Ward opened the ninth with a single and moved to third on a wild pitch and an infield out before Elia delivered.

Houston won its fourth straight — all against American League teams — as rookie outfielder Greg Sims' ninth inning homer beat Washington 4-3. Lee Maye drove in the first three Astro runs with a homer and single.

Minnesota's defending American League champs dropped their fourth straight, 2-1 to Detroit. Jake Wood scored the winning run in the ninth inning on rookie pitcher Bill Whitby's wild pitch.

Kansas City shelled Dick Radatz for six unearned runs in the second inning and whipped Boston 8-4. An error by second baseman George Smith got the Athletics started. Boston rookie George Scott whacked a 450-foot home run.

The California Angels nipped the Chicago Cubs 3-2 with reliever bob Lee ending a bases-loaded threat in the eighth inning. Catcher Chris Krug homered for the Cubs.

Dave Roberts slugged a home run for Pittsburgh as the Pirates whipped Philadelphia 6-2. The Phils loaded the bases three times but couldn't get the big hit.

DRAKE REAPS HARVEST IN TOURNEY OF CHAMPS

Curley calmly dribbled down court after time was restarted and the seconds began ticking away. Drake flooded the left side and waited for an opening. Then with only seven seconds left, Tobin got the pass in the key and out went his right arm for a hook shot. The ball didn't even touch the rim as it swished through the nets. The Drake rooters went wild.

Salesian got down court and tried a desperation shot but it was wide of the rim and came down in Sprout's arms. He just hugged the ball until the final buzzer sounded and then threw it straight in the air in jubilation. It was quite a site as all the Drake players ran and jumped off the court. They were still full of energy. It was Drake Coach Carl "Red" Brown who looked exhausted. A few minutes later, after he calmed down, he was the happiest man in Berkeley.

Tobin and Ingram each scored 14 points for Drake. Carlisle chipped in with 13, Curley 10 and Sprout 9, quite a balanced scoring punch. Allen, who was held scoreless in the final quarter when Curley and Ingram double teamed him, led all scorers with 21 points.

Each team hit 45 per cent from the field, Drake canning 28 of 62 shots and Salesian 24 of 52. From the free throw line, Salesian made good on 11 of 14 and Drake only 4 for 11. Salesian outrebounded Drake 35-33.

Tobin was well deserving of a spot on the all-star team. He ended up with 47 points and 34 rebounds in the three games, an average of 15.7 points and 11 rebounds per game.

S.F. Warriors Still Eye Playoff Birth

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors, fighting to make their mathematical hope of a National Basketball Assn. playoff berth a reality, play the St. Louis Hawks at San Jose tomorrow night.

With four games remaining, the Warriors are furth in the Western Division, two and one-half games behind the second-place Baltimore Bullets. The Hawks are third, one and one-half back of the Bullets.

Guy Rodgers led the Warrior attack last night as San Francisco dealt Detoit a 121-119 defeat at Oakland Auditorium. Rodgers scored 24 points followed by Rick Barry's 18, and preserved the San Francisco victory by scoring a field goal and three free throws in the closing minutes.

Barry, the rookie with a 24-point average, scored 14 points on field goals in the first period but hit only four points on free throws in the second half.

Piston player-coach Dave DeBusschere came off the bench and scored 13 points during the second quarter to pull the Pistons to within two points of the Warriors at halftime, 67-65. The lead changed hands several times in the second period, but Rodgers scored to put the Warriors ahead to stay at 117-116.

A Hot Big League Debut For Negro Ump Ashford

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—Emmett Ashford's debut behind the plate as the major's first Negro umpire was enlivened by some vintage lip from Leo Durocher and a near assault on the pitching mound.

The occasion was Durocher's second attempt to win an exhibition baseball game from his former pupil, Bill Rigney. But Rigney's California Angels defeated Durocher's Cubs for a second time 3-2 yesterday.

"I knew Hotzman's pitch wasn't intentional," Ashford reflected after the game. It just got away from him. When Sanford came back like that I said to myself 'okay, they're even.' "

"But one more and old Emmett would have jumped in there with both feet."

All told, Ashford saw fit to call one Angel and three or four Cubs out on strikes without attracting comment.

But calling out Chicago's Bob Raudman brought Durocher rushing to the plate for some high-decibel discussion.

Rigney said after the game that Ashford "is going to be a fine umpire. He handled himself very well. And it was a little hot out there."

"It did get a little hot out there," agreed Ashford. "But I loved it. It was a great game."

Durocher, still looking for his first victory as Cub manager, had no comment.

Utah In Bad Shape For NCAA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The University of Utah, the West's entry in the NCAA basketball championships, faces next weekend's showdown at something less than full strength.

But without Fisher, the Redskins dominated last weekend's play in winning the quarterfinals of the tournament, the Far West Regionals at UCLA's Pauley Pavilion.

Utah defeated University of the Pacific, 83-74, and Oregon State, 70-64, for the Far West title. Oregon State advanced to the Utah game by overcoming Houston, 63-60.

Chambers' success was in the face of frequent double and triple-teaming by the methodical Beavers, the best defensive team in the nation. He stayed calm, floating up for jump shots with a soft touch.

Chambers, Tate, and Jackson were named to the all - tournament team with Charlie White of the Beavers, Elvin Hayes of Houston and Rick Whelan of Oregon State.

Riverside Wins J.C. Tournament

Riverside captured its third straight California Junior College basketball title Saturday night by defeating City College of San Francisco 91-61 at Bakersfield.

In consolation games Imperial Valley defeated Allan Hancock of Santa Maria 78-57 for second place and Long Beach City College downed Pierce College of Los Angeles 86-58.

NCAA SEMI-FINALS

Kentucky, Duke, Utah And Texas

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was supposed to be a building year at Kentucky.

They really didn't have much, coming off a 15-10 season their poorest in many years. They were short on experience and hurting for height.

So they go into the semifinals of the NCAA national basketball championship with the nation's No. 1 ranking, the favorites' role and an unparalleled history of success.

"Nobody could have foreseen this," said Coach Adolph Rupp. "You could only dream about it.

"Naturally, we would have liked to have ended up undefeated, but 26-1 is a simply unbelievable record when you stop to think about it."

The Wildcats earned their spot in the NCAA semifinals at College Park, Md., this weekend when they turned back Big Ten champion Michigan 84-77 in the Mideast regional finals at Iowa City, Iowa, Saturday.

They'll next go against powerful Duke, ranked second in the nation and possessor of a 25-3 record, in one semifinal. The other matches Texas Western, No. 3 in the country and 26-1, against unranked Utah, 20-6.

Duke blew a 16-point lead but came back to take Syracuse 91-81 in the Eastern regional finals at Raleigh, N.C., Texas Western just edged Kansas 81-80 in double overtime at Lubbock, Tex., and Utah subdued Oregon State 70-74 at Los Aneles.

A crowd estimated at 20,000 by airport officials greeted rupp's Runts when the Kentucky squad returned to Lexington, Ky., yesterday, then paraded the team through town.

"A great tribute to a great bunch of boys" said Rupp, who has called this the best of all his teams. That covers a lot of ground, since the Baron has coached four NCAA champions, a record.

"We've only been beaten off the boards four times this season," he said, a remarkable performance since Kentucky's tallest starter is 6-foot-5.

Duke Coach Vic Babus agrees.

"I think we can win the championship," Bubs said. "We've got enough board power, enough speed and good outside shooting."

While Kentucky's injuries were mostly bumps and bruises, Utah has more serious worries. Starter Lyndon MacKay pulled a knee tendon in the regional title game against Oregon State and is a doubtful starter. Utah lost George Fisher two weeks ago with a broken leg.

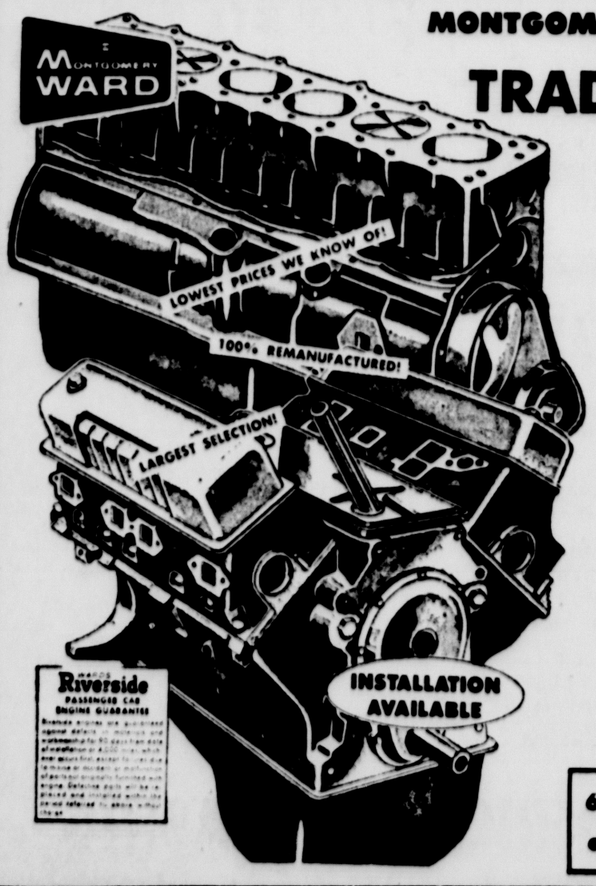

Kansas Coach Ted Owens still was fuming about the officiating in his losing effort against Texas Western, but admitted that he "would have to label Texas Western one of the best ball clubs around if you get a loosely called game."

Longden's Utterly Fantastic Finale

FINAL VICTOR—Johnny Longden ended his 40-year racing career with a dramatic victory aboard George Royal at Santa Anita Saturday. (UPI Telephoto)

By BOB MYERS

He closed the book Saturday at Santa Anita in utterly fantastic fashion.

It was in the $125,000 San Juan Capistrano Handicap. The betting odds were 6½ to 1 against him on George Royal.

John and George won — by a nose.

Today, John was honored at Santa Anita at a special testimonial between races on closing day of the Santa Anita meeting. Now he becomes a trainer for Canada's Frank McMahon.

Reflecting back the little old guy said:

"I don't have a black mark against me. I always done my best. I could always go home and sleep with myself and my conscience."

A self-made millionaire, Johnny's grammar may not be the best, and from now on his sleep may be restless if he reruns his final race.

Longden's victory just couldn't happen, even with as much sentimental support going for him. But it did.

"How 'bout that old guy! I feel like I won it myself."

For the Canada-adopted Longden on the Canadian-bred George Royal, it was a repeat victory in the Capistrano. A year ago a few suspected they might win. For 1966, literally thousands hoped they would.

Plaque, incidentally, was a surprise to Longden. An hour after the race he inquired who was second — this, after the nose win.

"Gee!" confessed John, "she (sic) wouldn't give up.

John joined in the laughter when advised that Plaque was a he, not a she.

The San Juan was Longden's second win of the afternon. After winning the fourth, Longden told of a message on the jockey room bulletin board.

The Capistrano of 16 years ago has always been selected by John as his most exciting race. He won on Charles S. Howard's Noor over the Calumet Farm team of Eddie Arcaro and Citation, also by a nose.

The 1966 edition? "This was a race of races, the public was so enthused. I thought I'd done a good job."

For the record, Longden's world record stands at 6,032 wins. He picks the 34-year-old Shoemaker to eventually break it. The Shoe has 5,340, or 692 to catch up.

"Catch him?" sparred The Shoe. "I just hope I live as long."

Shoemaker.

San Jose, UCLA Aces Headline West Track

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The talk of the West Coast track sports world today is San Jose's Tommy Smith, who ran the fastest outdoor 220 yard dash in the United States so far this season, and UCLA's Bob Day, who cracked the always golden four minute mile.

Both times came last Saturday as their respective squads easily outdistanced their opponents. UCLA ran over Arizona State University 96-49 in a dual meet at Tempe, Ariz., and San Jose swept 15 of 17 events against three California opponents.

Smith, a junior speedster, ran the 220 in 20.4 seconds, just .4 off the world record. Smith shares the world 200 meter time at 20 seconds.

Day, the NCAA and U.S. Track and Field Federation champ, ran his mile in 3:59. He was followed by fellow Bruins Geoff Pyne at 4:06.3 and Rick Romero at 4:07.1.

In other Saturday events, California edged Occidental at Los Angeles 74-71 with Bear Forrest State crushed Humboldt State 105-40 in a Far Western Conference dual meet at Arcata, Calif.

Marc Savage of UCLA cleared 16-¾ in the pole vault, while teammates Doug Olmstead won the triple jump with a 48-10 effort and Al Berman took the broad jump with 21-11¾.

The meet's only double winner was ASU's Jon Cole, with a discus toss of 189-9½ and a shot put heave of 59-5. Mike Lange of ASU won the high jump at 6-6.

Besides his swift 220 time, Smith also won the long jump at 24-10½ and anchored the Spartans' winning 440 yard relay team, whose time of 40.6 was the best this season in the nation. Running with Smith were Wayne Hermen, Tim Knowles and John Bambury.

San Jose compiled 113½ poits to UC Santa Barbara's 31, UC Davis' 22½ and Sacramento State's 14.

The Spartans' Ed Johnson, who twice has cleared seven feet this season, took the high jump at 6-10½, barely missing at seven feet.

The only firsts San Jose didn't grab were in the javelin, which UC Santa Barbara's Brian Downer won at 204-6, and in the 120 yard high hurdles, which Bill Robinson of UC Davis negotiated in 15.3.

California's Beaty won the 440 and 220 yard events and anchored on the 440 and mile relays. That last event decided the winner.

Beaty's 46.9 time in the 440 snapped a meet record of 47.3 set by Cal's Dave Archibald last season.

Russ Score Hockey Win

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP) — Russia's national hockey team has exploded the myth of its own total invincibility but the slick Soviet skaters are still the best amateur iceman in the world.

The Russians weathered a stunning 3-3 deadlock with Sweden earlier in the week and nailed their fourth consecutive world title yesterday by pounding Czechoslovakie 7-1 in the final game of the 11-day international tournament.

The patchwork American team, meanwhile, headed home buoyed by a 4-0 triumph over East Germany in its last game and looking forward to better things in 1967. The U.S. squad, thrown together on the eve of the tourney, dropped five games before finally jelling and winning its last two.

Saturday's victory over the East Germans was particularly savored because East Germany had humbled Sweden 4-1 before the Swedes almost toppled the Soviets.

"That shows how close we might have been to the top," said U.S. Coach Vic Heyliger.

SILKY RETURNS

It's A Big Week For G.G. Racing

ALBANY (AP) — The highlights of this week's racing card at Golden Gate Fields are Thursday's St. Patrick's Day parade and Saturday's running of the famous San Francisco mile.

The track was closed today, but a nine-race card is planned tomorrow. Entries were taken this morning for Tuesday's races.

One of America's most popular thoroughbreds, Silky Sullivan, will make an appearance between the fifth and sixth races St. Patrick's Day. The big chestnut is now 11-years-old.

All spectators whose names are Sullivan or O'Sullivan will be admitted free to the grandstand. A driver's license or social security card will serve as identification for the Thursday event.

Thursday will also be the first ladies day of the season.

Silky Sullivan, famous for his stretch runs, won his first race at Golden Gate in the fall of 1957 and later won the Santa Anita Derby. He was the favorite in the 1958 Kentucky Derby, but his stretch charge fizzled in the run for the roses.

In last Saturday's $10,000-added Albany Handicap, Sir Bolco charged from last place to score a neck victory over King Blenheim. His time for the six furlong race was 1 minute, 9 seconds.

Big 8 Again Dominates Indoor College Track

DETROIT (AP) — The Big Eight reigned today as the dominant power on the American indoor college track scene and appeared likely to continue on top in the near future.

For the second straight year, a Big Eight entry captured the team title in last weekend's National Collegiate Indoor Track Championships. In 1965 it was Missouri, this year it was Kansas.

Both won the crown with 14 points, and this year Jayhawker freshmen won two of three invitational events outside the NCAA competition.

Big Eight schools won four individual NCAA events, while Far West entries took five.

The other six championships went to the East and Midwest.

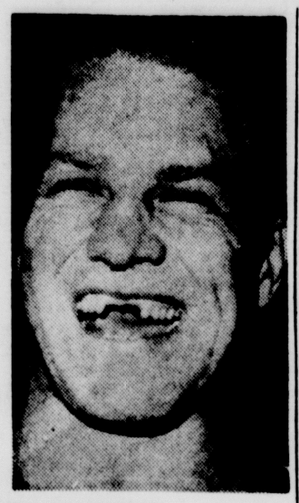

The South lost its chance to land in the win column when Southern University of Baton Rouge, La., was barred from competing because of failure to comply with the NCAA's new 1.6 grade average requirement.

Kansas captured the team title without winning a single event — but served notice on the others it will be a power to be reckoned with again next year.

More than 16,000 paid spectators watched the two-day championships in which seven meet records were set and one tied.

Records fell in the two-mile run, high jump, 600-yard run, pole vault, mile run and 60-yard dash. An automatic record went into the books in the 35-pound weight throw because the event was held for the first time.

Three Marin Women Among Golf Winners

Mrs. Art Sears of Indian Valley won third place in Class A, 95-17—78; Mrs. H. M. Lavender of Peacock Gap was third in Class B, 102-24—78; and Mrs. Lloyd Seitzenger of Mill Valley Golf Club was second in Class C, 109-27—82.

WBA Drops Clay From No. Terrell-Folley Fight Set

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Cassius Clay, whose flitting fists and stinging tongue won him the world heavyweight boxing crown and later the disfavor oft the World Boxing Assn., has been counted out of the WBA rankings.

The WBA Executive Committee scratched Clay as No. 1 heavyweight contender yesterday and replaced him with Zora Folley, who agreed to fight for the title here May 16.

The World Boxing Assn., which really doesn't cover all of the world, previously had stripped Clay of his title and had recognized Ernie Terrell as the champion. Folley had been rated second in the list of challengers.

Promoter Lou Messina of New Orleans said Folley had accepted an offer to fight Terrell for the title in City Park Stadium. Messina sent Terrell an offer of "50 per cent of the net gate receipts and television and radio rights, if any."

Jim Deskin of Las Vegas, Nev., quoted Terrell as being "ready, willing and able to meet any suitable opponent that the WBA suggested."

Clay and Terrell had been scheduled to fight later this month in Chicago but the match was moved to one city after another when the Louisville Lip's comments on being drafted and the Viet Nam war reddened the ears of patriotic officialdom.

When Clay and George Chuvalo agreed to meet in a title fight March 29 in Toronto, the WBA refused its sanction.

One reason given is that Terrell is the WBA champion — the whole point of the Clay-Terrell bout had been to give the world one heavyweight champ. Clay is recognized as champion in many parts of the world.

Also, the WBA said it did not feel that Chuvalo, who has lost two of his last three fights, was a suitable opponent for a title match.

The WBA urged an investigation of the Ontario Athletic Commission for its actions concerning the Clay-Chuvalo-Terreil matter.
